PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 21.—Thomas F. Arlington to Close Saturday

LAWRENCE, March 21.—The 7000 employees of the Arlington mills, which make cotton and woolen goods, were notified this morning that the plant will shut down at the end of the present week for an indefinite period. This action has been taken, according to Agent John T. Mercer, because of "unsatisfactory business conditions."

The hope is expressed that "an increased demand for our products and

ACTING SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

W. C. MacBrayne Says Certain Councilors Offered to Vote for Him If He Would Protect Liquor Dealers—Acting Chief Refused to Give Names and Suggested Grand Jury Proceedings

Declaring that certain members of the city council offered to trade votes for protection with him and that when the time is ripe he will name the men, and intimating that the place will be a grand jury session, acting Superintendent of Police W. C. MacBrayne last night again clashed with councilors at a meeting at city hall.

Capt. MacBrayne appeared before the council at the request of Councilor Sailer of ward 4, who questioned him regarding an editorial that appeared in a Sunday paper, purported to have been written by him and containing statements alleged to be in defamation of the councilor's character.

Incidents closely linked with the days when Mr. MacBrayne's name was before the council as the mayor's nominee for chief of police were brought out in the questioning, including a conference held at the home of a man in Belvidere, at which Mr. MacBrayne, two councilors and a liquor dealer were present.

Also it was brought to light that some arrangements had been made by some persons interested to take a trip to a nearby city for the alleged purpose of

Chancellor Says He Does Not Propose to Make Conditions to U. S. Government

LONDON, March 21.—(By the Associated Press) Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, discussing the British debt in the house of commons today, said:

"I do not propose to make any conditions to the American government as to the payment of our due obligations."

Mr. Chamberlain added that the government intended to put a motion clearly raising the question as to whether it possessed the confidence of the house.

"The whole house will recognize," he said, "that it would be impossible for us to ask the premier to go to Genoa if there were any doubt about his authority."

but he was requested to dress and accompany the officers.

Shortly after the raid Officer Bowers received a call from Lawrence and it is expected that he will head a raiding party in that city. Officer Bowers is kept pretty busy of late caring for this district. At the present time Officer Sheldon is working with the flying squadron in the western part of the state throwing all of the federal work here on to Officer Bowers.

HUGHES DENIES SECRET PACT

Letter From Secretary of State Leads to Warm Debate in Senate on Treaty

Declares no Secret Agreement For Future British-American Co-operation

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Presentation in the senate today of a letter from Secretary Hughes denying flatly that any secret agreement exists for future British-American co-operation led today to another effort by opponents of the four-power treaty to send it back to committee. The effort brought on a warm debate.

The secretary's letter, characterizing suggestions of such an agreement as "absolutely false" was laid before the senate by Senator Lodge, the republican leader and a member of the arms delegation, who, at the same time put into the record a telegram from Paul D. Cravath, the New York attorney, denying the accuracy of a statement on the same subject attributed to him by Senator Borah.

Retorting a denial made in a former communication that any secret agreements existed with other powers in connection with the arms conference, Mr. Hughes wrote in today's letter that he hoped to see no "further aspersions upon the veracity and honor" of the American delegates.

White House Issues Denial

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The American government entered into no agreement or understanding during the arms conference that was not embodied in treaty form and made public, it was stated today at the White House in connection with charges in the senate that an understanding had been reached between the United States and Great Britain relative to action in the Pacific.

The charge of a secret agreement was described as outrageous and unthinkable. It was further declared inconceivable that the American government should invite Japan to a conference and then be perfidious enough to turn around and make a secret agreement antagonistic to her.

HOOVER PRAISES PACIFIC PACT

Declares Four-Power Treaty Eliminates Causes of Friction Among Nations

Accuses Opponents of "Shaking Bloody Shirt to Find Some Hidden Meaning"

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Herbert Hoover, in a speech here last night before the Lincoln club, declared that the four-power Pacific treaty eliminated causes of friction among nations.

He accused opponents of the treaty of "shaking the bloody shirt" in an attempt to "find some hidden meaning, some terrible subversion of American rights" in the pact.

"The usual bitter controversy has been raised over the ratification of this last attempt of nations to agree upon practical steps toward peace," he said. "These agreements were limited to the narrow field of disarmament in the belief that here was an issue upon which full unity of the American people could be obtained. There is that unity, except among a few who prefer measures of force to measures of good will in our international relations."

Petitioners Admit That Removal of Redmond Welch As Police Chief Was Unnecessary

Arguments Today Before the Full Bench of the Supreme Judicial Court on Petitions of Mayor Brown and W. C. MacBrayne for Writs of Mandamus to Prevent City Council From Taking Further Action Regarding Removal of Welch

The petitions of Mayor George H. Brown and W. C. MacBrayne, acting superintendent of police, seeking writs of mandamus to restrain the city council of Lowell from taking any further action regarding the removal of Redmond Welch, were argued today in Boston, before the full bench of the supreme judicial court.

Sitting were Chief Justice Hugg and Justices Braley, DeCoursey, Crosby and Jernigan.

The hearing opened at 11.30 a.m. and continued for one hour and a half, and at no time did the justices by question intimate any feeling or decision in the matter.

This case, which bids fair to be the most important interpretation of the new charter that will be fought, was approached today from three angles.

The petitioners admit that the removal of Redmond Welch was unnecessary and void but contend that the mayor has the right to make a temporary appointment to any administrative office with such temporary appointees acting as an ouster of the holders incumbent.

The respondents, the city council, represented by Attorney James J. Kerwin contend that the mayor's removal of Mr. Welch is valid and that therefore the city council is free to act upon the removal, after hearing, either to sustain the removal or to reinstate him.

Redmond Welch, who intervenes in the case, through his counsel, Albert S. Howard, holds that he was not subject to removal. He contends moreover that temporary appointments can be made only after the removal of officers appointed under the present form of the charter.

In opening his argument Atty. John M. O'Donoghue, counsel for the mayor and Mr. MacBrayne, read a number of sections of the charter which have a bearing on the case, laying particular emphasis upon that section which deals with the termination of the terms of office of officers serving under the former charter, with the provision that they shall remain in office however until their successors are appointed, confirmed and qualified.

Mr. O'Donoghue said he felt sure that the legislature intended to read into the charter that the words "appointed, confirmed and qualified" mean "appointed as in the case of the city solicitor, but confirmed only when necessary."

He raised the question as to whether or not an office can be vacant and occupied at the same time and said that he believed an office might well be occupied for the purpose of properly conducting and continuing the city's business, but in reality being vacant as far as the mayor's right to make an appointment is concerned. He stated further that a hold-over officer simply holds on from moment to moment for the purpose only of not allowing a break in the public service and only until such a time as a temporary appointment was made.

Atty. Kerwin brought out the fact that the mayor now admits that his removal of Mr. Welch was unnecessary and void. The city council, however, contends that the removal is valid and that they have a right to proceed with the hearing and to reinstate him if they so desire.

Mr. Kerwin quoted that section of the charter which deals with the mayor's right to make temporary appointments only after an office has been made vacant because of resignation or death or for any other reason which makes it impossible for the incumbent to fill that office.

Mr. Kerwin stated further that the legislature must have fully realized that during the transition from one form of government to the other a time must come when administrative offices would be physically vacant and with this in mind the legislators did not leave it to the mayor or to the city council or to any other municipal agency to care for such an emergency, but provided for it themselves by inserting the phrase "they (the administrative officers) shall remain in office, however, until their successors, etc."

Mr. Kerwin argued that the word "therefore" not only adds a great deal of emphasis to the phrase but makes it clear what was in the mind of the legislature.

Mr. Howard spoke on his motion on the right to intervene in the case on the grounds of great interest in the matter by his client, Redmond Welch.

Mr. Howard stated that Mr. Welch contends that he was not subject to removal inasmuch as the legislature made him a stop-gap during the period of transition from the old charter to the new. He stated further that he reads the charter to mean that temporary appointments can be made by the mayor only after an officer appointed under the present form of charter has been subject to either removal or suspension.

LOCAL TANNERY CLOSED AS RESULT OF STRIKE

General Organizer John J. Shea and National Secretary-Treasurer James J. Cheney of the United Leather Workers of America, and both of Peabody, addressed the strike committee of the American Hide & Leather Co. at a meeting held in Leather Workers' hall, Central street, this morning, and with the assistance of the committee made plans for the picketing of the plant.

The employees of the plant at a meeting held last evening, voted to refuse to accept the 10 per cent. reduction in wages, which was scheduled to go into effect yesterday morning, and also voted to strike and as a result none of the men reported for work this morning. As far as could be learned, no attempt to operate the plant was made this morning or this afternoon.

The strike affects about 300 men, or about 35 per cent. of the full time working force. The men feel that a ten per cent. reduction on top of an earlier big reduction which went into effect in the early part of the year, is more than they can stand and they have received the sanction of the national organization to declare a strike.

The visiting officials of the national organization conferred a couple of hours with the strike committee this morning and prepared plans for the picketing of the plant in case an attempt should be made to operate with strike-breakers. At the close of the conference it was announced that the strike committee will meet every morning at 10 o'clock and that mass meetings of the strikers will be held every afternoon at 3 o'clock. The officers of the national body were not prepared this morning to issue any statement

House To Take Up Bonus Bill Thursday

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The soldiers' bonus bill will be taken up by the house Thursday under suspension of the rules, under a plan agreed upon today at a conference between Speaker Gillett and Chairman Campbell of the rules committee. The speaker, it was said, has agreed to entertain a motion to suspend the rules. Mr. Campbell said he would call a meeting of his committee tomorrow morning at which he will ask committee members to report a rule designating Thursday as suspension day with a proviso that four hours debate on the bill shall be provided.

Issue Order to Quit Coal Mines April 1

NEW YORK, March 21.—The order for a suspension of work in the anthracite and bituminous coal mines throughout the country on April 1, will be issued late this afternoon, according to Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America. The order will affect about 600,000 miners.

The government, it was stated at the White House today, has not entirely abandoned attempts to bring bituminous operators and miners together in a conference to avert a strike on April 1.

Concerning the strike and said that would come later on.

When asked for a statement relative to the strike this afternoon, one of the officials of the company stated he had nothing to say.

"Are you going to attempt to run the plant?" he was asked.

"We are running. The power is running and we have some help at work," was the answer.

Lloyd George Seeks Attitude of Commons on Policy Regarding Genoa

LONDON, March 21.—(By the Associated Press) Prime Minister Lloyd George will resume his place in the house of commons April 2 and will immediately ask for a vote on the government's policy regarding the Genoa conference, according to the British press.

JOINT RATE DECISION IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, March 21.—An order suspending enforcement of the Interstate Commerce commission's recent order reappointing joint rates collected by Eastern and New England carriers, and directing the government to show cause why a permanent injunction against the order should not be granted, was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Julius Mayer. The reappointment was made effective March 1.

The order was granted on application of counsel for nearly 100 railroads, who submitted a petition asserting that the rate ruling was arbitrary and outside the powers of the commission. The proceedings were said to constitute the first case in which the powers of the Interstate Commerce commission as exercised under the transportation act of 1910, have been questioned. Nearly all eastern roads, with the exception of the New York Central, the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, joined in the petition. They stated that a joint rate agreement among themselves and other roads operating between New England and points north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river, which reduced by 15 per cent, the proportion of joint rates on international shipments given to eastern lines and added the percentage to the amount allocated New England carriers.

The New England roads whose complaints led to the making of the order by the commission are the Central New England, Bangor & Aroostook, Boston & Maine, Central Vermont, Maine Central, New York, New Haven and Hartford, Rutland, and their subsidiaries and operated lines.

It was announced last night that the New York Central, the only one of the big eastern roads extending into New England to remain out of the joint court action, will conduct an independent suit against the commission's ruling.

MISSING GIRL STUDENT FOUND

CHICAGO, March 21.—Miss Edna Taylor, 21 years old, University of Chicago student, missing since Thursday, when she started for New York to visit her parents, was found yesterday in a lodging-house here.

She explained her absence by saying she had lost her purse containing $50 while on the way to the railroad station Thursday and had then conceived the idea of working to raise enough money to visit her home.

She obtained a room in the lodging-house under an assumed name and later got a position as clerk in a broker's office at $18 a week. She also got a position which required only an hour of her time each evening as companion to Mrs. M. E. Robinson, wife of a coal merchant. The latter position paid her $1 a night.

When she awoke yesterday morning she said she found just five cents in her purse and, after hesitating as to whether to buy a newspaper or a cup of coffee, bought the coffee and walked five miles into the city. She said that she had not seen newspaper accounts of her disappearance; that her decision to earn her own living was just a "hark," and that she wanted to be "independent" and could not see why anyone should be interested in her movements.

This Kentucky Feud's Really a Family Affair

MRS. CHARLES LENAHAN AND HER FAMILY

(By N. E. A. Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21.—There's a new "Kentucky feud" on here. It's different from any you've ever read about. The object of the old-time feud was to kill folks off. This feud aims to bring 'em into the world. It's really a family affair.

The principals are two brothers, Charles and Joseph Lenahan. When the brothers married Charles said to Joseph:

"Let's bring up a bigger family than you will."

And Joseph said to Charles:

"Not you won't!"

Today each brother has 11 children.

When Robert Lee was born in Charles' home two months ago, the Charles Lenahans stepped into the lead. But a month later James Patrick arrived at the Joseph Lenahan home to even things up once more.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Edward F. Tamm, a member of the New York bar, was today suspended from the institution for six months for "conduct detrimental to the best interests of the exchange."

GOV. COX AT WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON, March 21.—Governor Cox of Massachusetts called at the White House today and paid his respects to President Harding.

Doctors Disagree

Washington died from a complication of diseases which seem to have ended in a fatal pneumonia. Good birth and a clean and vigorous outdoor life had made a fine specimen of manhood of "the Father of our Country." Physicians have long discussed the true reason of Washington's death.

Seneca and a few other cathartics have been used since ancient times. But during the earlier years of American history the doctors were in the habit of opening a vein and letting out blood in the treatment of fevers and every ill that led to fevers, such as indigestion, constipation, colds, nervousness and, in fact, most of the ills of man. As it is known that Washington was freely bled by the doctors, there are many physicians who believe that he might have lived many years longer if he had received different treatment.

It is true that bleeding will quickly reduce a fever, but so will a strong cathartic. In fact, when the custom of bleeding passed, "the cathartic habit" rapidly took its place. Today the general use of powerful cathartics is doing many times more harm than bleeding ever did.

Strangely enough, there always have been pure and mild medicines that made the use of bleeding or cathartics almost unnecessary.

For example, consider Sennal. It is a hundred years since Doctor Osgood of Boston commenced to give it to his patients. Doctor Osgood married into the Wilson family of druggists who compounded the Sennal for him, and so practically one family has been making it for a hundred years.

Throughout all this time prominent physicians of New England have been prescribing Sennal for impoverished blood, or anemia, and for all that causes or is caused by poor blood, such as boils and other painful or disfiguring sores, indigestion and most forms of stomach trouble, constipation, torpid liver, kidney affections, and general debility.

Sennal is a reconstructive tonic. It does not FORCE the bowels to act, but it stimulates and so strengthens the blood and all the organs that they, after short treatment, act naturally, vigorously and pleasantly.

A good description of what Sennal will do is to be found in the following letter, written by Mrs. G. C. Bateson, who has spent all her life in Pawtucket, R. I. She resides at 114 Mineral Springs Ave.

"I had been slowly failing for two years. The doctor said it was general decline. I was weak, depressed and terribly nervous. The trouble that led up to this condition was indigestion and constipation resulting in poor blood, hemorrhoids, gas in stomach, backache, headaches and dizziness. The medicines I took including cathartics, seemed to make my troubles worse. When I was just about ready to give up, Druggist Gil suggested that I try Sennal. He promised it very highly and said if I was not perfectly satisfied he would return my money.

"The result of two bottles of Sennal was amazing. To put it in a few words, they practically made me well. All my organs acted right, my aches and pains left me, my complexion improved, and I am convinced that Sennal the Sensible Tonic is a truly wonderful remedy."

Two bottles were also received at the same office for a one-month 127 wall-meter for the vocational school. The bills were as follows: New Electrical & Supply Co., $73.60; C. B. May Co., $65.70 less 10 per cent.

PORTLAND, Me., March 21.—"Welcome home" was the message that 2500 Portlanders who extended greetings at the Grand Trunk docks today to troops on the transport Canigay returning from Germany where they served with the occupation forces at the Coblenz bridge-head.

Two battalions of the 5th United States Infantry under command of Col. Harry B. Knight, comprising 44 officers and 275 enlisted men, were debarked in units of 200 each.

Before they were taken in steamers of the quartermaster's department to the city, McKimley and Layett, where they will be stationed, they were served with sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee and presented with cigarettes and postcards.

Greetings in leading of the state, city, American Legion and the various civic and patriotic organizations were extended. Special attention was given to 27 women and children dependents of officers and the families of enlisted men numbering 32 women and children.

$5000 Loss Caused by Fire in Lynn

LYNN, March 21.—A four-story wooden building on Union street, occupied by the J. M. Hartman Drug Co., and William McParsons, a jeweler, was badly damaged by fire early today. A patrolman discovered the blaze in the basement. The loss was estimated at $5000.

125 Warships in San Diego Harbor

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—One hundred and twenty-five warships and auxiliaries, said to be the largest number ever at an American port in peace time, were in San Diego harbor today. The armada comprises virtually three-fourths of the ships attached to the Pacific fleet and if steaming in column formation, would make a line 10 miles long, officers said. There are 93 destroyers in this number.

National Censorship of Movies in Poland

WARSAW, March 21.—National censorship of motion pictures has been established in Poland. It is hoped in this way to check the crime wave which has kept the police busy for some time. Motion picture houses of the lower class were flooded with the cheapest kind of old-fashioned American "wild west" films and the police say the youths of the land have been emulating the "bad men" of the screen.

EVERETT TRUE

What Wincarnis did for a Wretchedly Nervous Woman

Striking Case of Prompt Improvement After Serious Nervous Break-down

Messrs. Edward Lassar, Inc., 400 West 23d St., New York City

Gentlemen: A feeling of everlasting gratitude impels me to tell you about the truly remarkable effect of Wincarnis in my case. I am sending you this letter in the hope that it will find some way to let others suffering as I did, know how they can regain health and strength. If you care to do so, you are at liberty to publish this letter for it may save some one from further agony of body and mind.

Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least little thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clasp of thunder would make me shiver from terror. I finally became so depressed, fidgety and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually ashamed of myself. I lost a great deal of weight and simply could not get any restful sleep.

I began taking Wincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was nothing less than startling. Everyone commented on the wonderful improvement of my condition. Today I am completely restored to health and never feel the slightest trace of nervousness. My appetite is excellent. I sleep soundly every night, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or broken-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Wincarnis is.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) Mrs. May Baltusola.

TO PAY ADDITIONAL DIVIDEND OF 30 P. C.

BOSTON, March 21.—Permission to pay an additional dividend of 30 per cent to savings depositors and an initial distribution of 16.23 per cent to commercial depositors in the Prudential Trust Co. was asked of the supreme court today by John F. Hanigan, liquidating agent of the banking institution which was closed more than a year ago by Bank Commissioner Joseph A. Allen. Dividends of 33 1/2 and 12 1/2 per cent have already been paid in the savings department.

Mr. Hanigan, who presented the petition to Judge Carroll on behalf of Commissioner Allen said the bank had enough cash to pay savings depositors in full, and would then have funds sufficient to meet a 16.23 per cent payment on commercial accounts. Judge Carroll took the petition under consideration.

It had hoped people are said to be less subject to baldness than any other.

MRS. KENNARD FILES

SUIT FOR $150,000

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 21.—Mrs. Ethel Overholt Kennard of Greenland yesterday brought suit for $150,000 for alienation of affections of her husband, Capt. Reginald T. Kennard, against her mother-in-law, Mrs. William Kennard, and her brother-in-law, Victor T. Kennard, ex-Harvard football player. The suit is returnable at the April term of the superior court to be held at Exeter.

The suit filed yesterday is a sequel to a sensational suit last December in the Rockingham superior court in which Mrs. Ethel Kennard sued her husband for separate maintenance. At that time the evidence was of such a character that Presiding Justice W. H. Sawyer transferred the case from open court to his private chambers in the Rockingham court house. It is said that the allegations filed yesterday are based entirely on evidence presented at the hearing last fall. At that time Justice Sawyer took the case under advisement and as yet no decision has been made known.

It is claimed that Capt. Kennard did not live with his wife upon his return from France in the world war, because of a letter written him by his brother, Victor Kennard, which, Mrs. Kennard charges, made an impression on her husband. The Kennards, it is said, lived in New York city until their purchase of the Marsh farm in Greenland.

Mrs. Kennard in her allegations charges that Mrs. Wilhelmina Kennard and her son, Victor Kennard, conspired to separate Capt. Reginald Kennard from her while he was in France. The younger Mrs. Kennard was said to be at Long Island, N. Y., at the time.

INGROWN TOE NAIL

TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail grows naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic, manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

ALL BIDS FOR U. S. FLEET ARE REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Chairman Lasker announced yesterday that the shipping board had rejected all bids for its big fleet of cargo vessels, opened on March 14.

For the most part, Mr. Lasker considers the bids "facetious." The bids opened, he said, cover offers on only about 100 ships. The entire fleet was advertised for sale, and the board was prepared to entertain a serious offer if one were received.

"The bids indicate," said Mr. Lasker, "that there is no present market in the United States for ocean-going tonnage. From all I can gather I doubt that as much as $15,000,000 is available in this country today for investment in ocean tonnage. Our advice indicates that as much as $5,000,000 pounds sterling are available for this purpose in Great Britain."

"My own judgment is that unless congress establishes a definite policy for extending aid to the American merchant marine there will be no market for the government's big cargo fleet."

It was understood from the outset that the shipping board did not seriously expect a good offer for its fleet or any considerable proportion of it when bids were called for. Shipping board officials, however, did desire to definitely establish the fact that no present market exists for ocean tonnage.

The result of the opening of bids will be placed before the committee of congress in the hearings on the ship subsidy bill, which will begin Tuesday of next week.

Mr. Lasker announced yesterday the appointment of a committee consisting of Commissioner O'Connor and Vice President Smith, Love and Frey of the Emergency Fleet corporation with power to take over and operate for the Fleet corporation all piers owned or controlled by the shipping board in and around New York. The plan is to take over the Munson and Cosmopolitan line piers.

EDWARDS' APPEALS FOR 20,000 JOBLESS VETS

BOSTON, March 21.—Gen. Clarence R. Edwards yesterday issued an appeal for 20,000 ex-service men in and around Boston, who are unemployed and in want.

The statement said in part: In and around Boston there are 20,000 ex-service men willing to do anything that is honorable at any living wage to keep themselves and their families from real want. Personal investigation and knowledge of hundreds of typical cases have convinced me that my apprehension for their welfare is well founded.

It has been demonstrated in this last month under the severest of conditions that these men are anxious to get work and will well perform any work that may be given them. I have always paid tribute to the great sustaining power of New England behind the troops on the fighting line. It was the controlling power that made them "carry on" when the limit of blood and sweat had been reached. I am

CONCILIATION IN INDIA PREDICTED

TYRONE, Pa., March 21.—There will be no general revolution in India, though sporadic trouble may continue, according to an opinion expressed by Bishop E. Lester Smith, missionary to India from the Methodist Episcopal church, in an address here before the Central Pennsylvania annual conference of that denomination.

Bishop Smith also voiced "real admiration for the sincerity" of Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist agitator, "as a man, even though I cannot approve of his actions and methods."

"I believe that India will accept the reforms offered by England," said the speaker, "and will make tremendously rapid progress toward real self-government. Political unity in India today is only possible under the British flag. Over 700 native states, over 150 languages, an infinite variety of caste distinctions and all kinds of religious views cannot be brought into harmony under any Indian authority at present. If anarchy is to be avoided English control must be continued until a greater measure of fusion of Indian nationalities has been secured."

Bishop Smith outlined the following reasons for believing that a general revolution is not impending:

"I base my judgment first upon the way I have been treated. I have experienced no opposition of a discourteous sort. Thefts by violence are more common in America than in India."

"Gandhi is, I believe, fully committed to maintaining the non-violent character of his movement, and his influence in India is simply beyond computation. It is doubtful whether the present union of 70,000,000 Mohammedans and 235,000,000 Hindus, bitter hereditary enemies, can be maintained. The Mohals in Malabar are slaying Hindus alive as reprisals for aid given to British forces."

"The British government has provided a sincere and generous form of home rule. The legislative councils which have been organized under this plan conducted their business with promise of helpful co-operation. I believe that a substantial proportion of Indian thought is moderate."

"The native states which cover more than one-third of India, are almost universally in favor of the status quo."

In conclusion Bishop Smith said, "The very beginning of Indian aspiration and the development of Indian life was born in Christian teaching and education."

School Head Campaigns To Wipe Out Illiteracy

MRS. JENNIE ERICKSON DODGE.

(By N.E.A. Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 21.—Just now Mrs. Jennie Erickson Dodge, school superintendent for Pulaski county, is conducting a campaign to wipe out illiteracy in her neck of the woods. Since January 1 she has organized 50 schools for adults and secured an enrollment that has passed the 1000 mark.

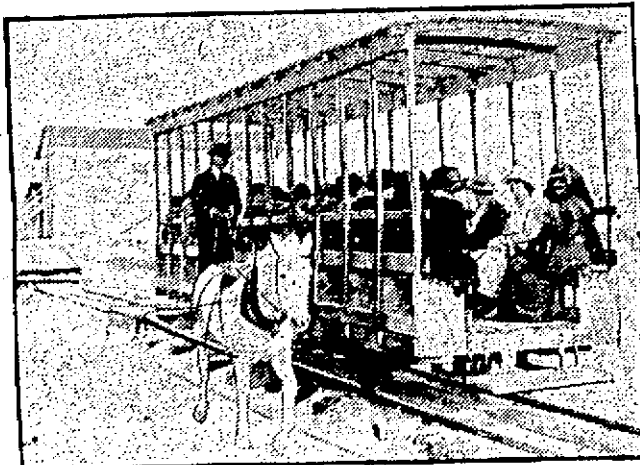

And this is only a small part of the work and general interest she has been concerned in in Pulaski county. As school official she draws $1000 a year, $400 more than the state superintendent of education and as much as the governor of the state.

She is supplied with an auto for visits to rural schools.

Recently she was county probation officer and it was largely through her efforts that the mothers' pension act was passed in Arkansas.

The building and maintenance of the Arkansas Reformatory for Women and girls are credited to her efforts. She made a personal trip to Washington where she enlisted the support of President Wilson and secured an appropriation of $50,000 needed for this work.

Mrs. Dodge began her career as a school teacher with three children to support.

New McCall Patterns 2605, 2550

Dresses Made the New McCall Way Always Fit

Sleeves go right, "yokes set well" and seams need no "taking in" or "letting out" when the material is cut right in the first place.

Until now, you couldn't be sure that you were cutting your dress right, for old-style patterns varied more or less. But McCall's improved pattern is "printed" so that it cannot charge a fraction of an inch.

Now you can cut the most expensive material and know that the dress will go together right, because you are practically cutting by the designer's original pattern which is called the Master Pattern.

This means a wonderful new simplicity in dressmaking—and a more successful effect in dresses.

SHERIFFS HALT PICKETING

100 Strikers Who Defied Order Against Mass Picketing Dispersed

Troops Join With Deputy Sheriffs to Break up Pawtucket Parade

PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 21.—In an effort to test Sheriff Jonathan Andrews' order against mass picketing over 100 strikers assembled near the plant of the Jencks Spinning Co., today and proceeded to march in single file towards the mill gate. The deputy sheriffs quickly stopped the parade, informed the leaders that such a gathering was a violation of the sheriff's order and with the assistance of the militia on duty drove the crowd some distance from the mill. Afterwards about 35 strikers were allowed to do picket duty near the mill gates.

ALIENS SEEK PAPERS

Action Follows Announcement of Firm That U. S. Would Get Preference

DETROIT, March 21.—Circuit court judges here were called into conference today by Presiding Judge Ira W. Payne to discuss the frantic efforts of aliens to obtain first citizenship papers, following announcement by several industrial firms that American citizens, particularly former service men, would be given preference in employment. The matter also was said before naturalization officials of the federal court.

Circuit court judges indicated that they regarded the situation as serious and Judge John Faust of the municipal court, who also is chairman of the American Legion employment committee, characterized it as a disgraceful prostitution of American citizenship.

It is estimated that there are 30,000 alien factory employees in Detroit and that 20,000 former soldiers are out of work here.

MISS SPRING IS WEARING WRAPS

Today, the first day of spring, began with a rather threatening aspect during the early morning hours, and early afternoon gave way to little promise of a clear sky, although the weather man prophesied that such would be the case. The temperature, combined with the damp air, was hardly all that could be desired, but the streets and sidewalks began to dry up before noon, granting a little solace to those who awaited the coming of the vernal equinox at 4:49 o'clock this morning with the hope that the advent of spring would be a real, rather than a mathematical event.

The promise of colder weather tonight, even though qualified by the prediction of a fair day tomorrow, indicates that the burdens of winter must be borne a little longer.

ISLAND POND, Vt., March 21.—The Montreal-Portland line of the Grand Trunk railway was tied up today and passenger trains were delayed several hours by a freight derailment at Westford. Fifteen cars of wheat were derailed. No one was injured. Removal of the debris was begun at once and it was expected to clear the line this afternoon.

THRILLING RESCUES

Woman With Hair in Flames Carried to Street—Man and Four Children Saved

HAVERHILL, March 21.—Mrs. Helen Callahan, aged 59; Oreste Tehafra, in bed suffering with rheumatism, and four small children, the oldest 7 and the youngest a baby less than a year old, were rescued early today in a fire that destroyed two tenements in a 12-family apartment house on Harrison street, this city.

The fire had gained great headway when discovered by patrolmen. The children were carried out by one of the patrolmen. Mrs. Callahan was found unconscious on the floor, her hair and clothing on fire, and was carried down one flight of stairs to the street. Tehafra was taken from the building by two firemen. The cause of the fire is unknown. Damage is estimated at $5000.

Two "Gold Badge Deputies" Killed in Pursuit of Robbers

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y., March 21.—Henry S. Graves, 3rd, of Ardsley-on-Hudson, and Henry Wilson, Jr., of Dobbs Ferry, were killed today when their automobile crashed into a stone wall near Elmsford, and turned over. Graves, brother of Henry, was probably fatally injured. The men were members of Sheriff Warner's force of "gold badge deputies" and were in pursuit of robbers.

DEFENSE RESTS IN THE WARNER-FULLER CASE

TAUNTON, March 21.—The defense rested late this forenoon in the $100,000 slander suit which Joseph E. Warner, former speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, has brought against Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller.

Warner, called by the defense as its last witness, denied that he had received money as counsel in a case before the Industrial Accident Board. Letters were introduced in an attempt to show that Harold T. Hathaway, who the defense contends was Warner's law partner, had applied for a place as a member of the board for that case.

Carl Magee, a reporter for the Salem Evening News, testified as to the questions which Fuller asked Warner at a political rally at Salem in September, 1920. It was in connection with the campaign of Fuller and Warner for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor that year that the alleged slander was committed. The witness said that Warner did not answer specifically any of Fuller's questions, but that he did make a general denial in which he declared that he had had nothing to do with Hathaway's appearance before legislative committees.

The defense closed without calling for testimony by Hathaway, who had been summoned as a witness.

RESERVES DECISION ON THEATRE FIRE

NEW HAVEN, March 21.—Judge Hoyt reserved decision until March 27 at the conclusion of the trial in City court yesterday of Lawrence W. Carroll, former manager of the Rialto theatre here, who is charged with manslaughter. Carroll pleaded not guilty to the charge, which was based on the death of one of the 10 persons who succumbed to burns received in the theatre fire last November.

City Attorney Whitaker, in his closing argument, said that Carroll, as manager of the theatre, was responsible for the hanging of inflammable materials on the stage and the burning of incense for the prologue of a film play. The city attorney said the conditions on the stage started the fire and caused the quick spread of the flames and loss of life. He declared the manager was not responsible for the building being unsafe.

Sweeps Through Matches in Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournaments at Boston

BOSTON, March 21.—Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory, opening another tennis season today, swept through matches in both the singles and doubles tournaments toward new titles. As playing through champion, she set out for her fifth indoor singles title by a first round victory over Miss Rosemond Newton of this city, 6-2, 6-2. In doubles, paired with Mrs. L. G. Morris, also of New York, she advanced over the local combination of Miss Marian Morris and Miss Margaret Houghton, 6-0, 6-1.

With the beginning of play tomorrow in the national mixed doubles championship, also on the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club, Mrs. Mallory will join again with W. T. Tilden, 2d, as playing-through tilts. They were among the six teams seeded into the draw for that event today, with indications that in at least three combinations Mrs. Mallory would be a finalist.

The former Norse girl showed today the sweeping strokes of other successful seasons, with no sign of let-down in her game.

CUNNINGHAM IN FEAR OF POACHERS

DEDHAM, March 21.—Further testimony to show that Caleb Loring Cunningham feared poachers on his East Milton estate would kill him, was introduced today at the 68-year-old man's trial for the murder of John Johnson of West Quincy in January, 1921.

Robert C. Ware of Quincy, a nephew of Cunningham, said his uncle had told him he had been shot at and that he expected a poacher's bullet would reach him some day.

Peleg Brownson, a Milton farmer, testified as to the shooting of Cunningham's uncle by poachers 32 years ago and that Cunningham had spoken of their depredations as a source of trouble in his day also.

PROBES JURY DISAGREEMENT

District Attorney's Office Investigates Failure of Murder Jury to Agree

Prominent Los Angeles Minister to Be Questioned in Case of Mrs. Obenchain

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 21.—The district attorney's office has begun an investigation of the jury disagreement in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of her sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy.

Three of the jurors had reported that three others, who had voted for acquittal while nine favored conviction, had refused to listen to any arguments in the jury room.

In this connection, it was announced that a prominent Los Angeles minister would be summoned to the district attorney's office today to tell what he might know of a report that he had had conversation with one of the women on the jury and had offered prayers for her guidance.

The same woman was said to have met and talked with Ralph R. Obenchain, former husband and present counsel for the defendant, in the course of the trial.

It was further reported that the same woman had expressed the belief that "Burch was guilty but Mrs. Obenchain was not."

Whether the second trials of Mrs. Obenchain and Arthur C. Burch, who was also indicted for the murder of Kennedy, would be held jointly or separately was expected to be decided in the superior court here today.

FORD FAVORS WAR VETERANS

DETROIT, Mich., March 21.—Announcement was made yesterday by the Ford Motor company that an increase of 20 per cent in the number employed at the Ford plants was put into effect yesterday and that preference was given former service men.

The efforts of the American Legion to replace unnaturalized aliens with former service men has brought a rush of aliens to the federal and circuit courts in quest of citizenship papers. Hundreds of men were in line when federal court opened yesterday and at least 200 were waiting at the county building.

TO INTRODUCE NEW IRISH BILL

LONDON, March 21 (by the Associated Press).—After the Irish people have formally accepted the Anglo-Irish treaty and the constitution, a bill will be introduced in the British parliament confirming the constitution of the Irish Free State, said Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies, in the house of commons yesterday.

Nothing could deprive parliament of its constitutional right to reject or amend legislation added by the Churchill, but the government would not be prepared to accept amendments to a treaty entered into with another government.

DRASTIC CUTS IN NAVY ESTIMATES

WASHINGTON, March 21 (by the Associated Press).—Drastic reductions in navy department estimates for the next fiscal year have been made by the house sub-committee on appropriations on framing the navy bill which will be reported Saturday.

Instead of providing funds for an enlisted personnel of 90,000, as urged by Secretary Denby, the committee it was said yesterday, fixed the total at 66,000, and authorized the commissioning of about 135 of the 541 members of the June graduating class at the naval academy.

G. O. P. LEADER'S VIEWS ON MAINE ELECTION

WASHINGTON, March 21.—John T. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee today issued the following statement relative to the special congressional election held yesterday in the Third Maine district.

"The republican candidate, John E. Nelson, won the special congressional election held in the Third district of Maine, Monday, by about 7000 majority. From returns at hand, Mr. Nelson received 52 per cent of the total vote polled. In 1916 the republican candidate received 54 per cent of the total vote; in 1918, 58 per cent, and in 1920, 55 per cent.

DUMMY OF MURDERED STUDENT IN COURT

MONTREAL, March 21.—Ray, Adolard Delorme, accused of killing his half-brother, Raoul Delorme, was confronted with a dummy, fully dressed in the clothes of the murdered student, when he appeared before Judge Cusson today for the continued hearing.

The dummy was taken to court by detectives and used to illustrate various points in the evidence put forward by the crown.

Continued
Improved business conditions will enable us to resume operations in the near future.

A "reduction and readjustment in the wages of the employees" of the Everett mills was announced today, effective March 27. The amount of the cut was not made known, the notice stating that a new schedule of rates will be worked out and rates will be furnished by the owners as soon as they have the new schedule.

The mills, it was announced, will run five days the week ending April 1, an increase of one day over the present schedule, and thereafter will operate on full time. The mill employs about 1250 hands, and manufactures ginghams, shirtings, dotoms, etc.

The Pacific mills, a cotton and worsted plant, employing 10,000 persons normally, today announced a wage reduction of approximately 20 per cent. The Pacific cut, effective March 27, is the first in this big textile center since the movement of wage revision began this year. It is one of the few made in Massachusetts mills to date.

Declines Cut Necessary
The notice posted in the Pacific mills stated that the wages cut had become necessary because business had steadily been falling off since last November, and "we have been unable to continue full time operations and have been running on a four day schedule for several weeks. Even at this rate, some of our departments are accumulating goods at high cost."

Continuing, the notice reads: "With the hope of stimulating business we have already named prices on all our lines which show us a heavy loss based on the present cost of cotton and wool."

"It is a well known fact that the purchasing power of the country at large, particularly outside of the industrial centers, has been greatly curtailed during the past year. This far-

SUICIDE

It seems that as a result of the war, business depression and perhaps other causes, there is a marked increase in the number of suicides in this country. The latest sensational suicide that has attracted attention in New England is that of Pauline Virginia Clark, a young divorcee of Boston, followed by that of Otto H. Larsen, a Norwegian student of her acquaintance and said to be a very bright and promising young man, deeply devoted to the study of art and literature. That a young woman who had passed through the ordeal of the divorce court and had been living in luxury but evidently unhappy, should have become tired of life and wished to end it all, is not surprising; but the case of the student is very different. He was about to finish his education and with every prospect of success, yet heaped that he was, he prepared the poison for the woman and after reading the account of her death in the newspapers and also of the search being made for himself, he was not man enough to come forward and tell the truth concerning the tragedy. He simply wrote a letter to the medical examiner detailing the facts and then, seeking a retired place, he drank from the phial of poison he had prepared for Miss Clark and thus followed her in death. It was not that he was hopelessly in love with the woman, because he said he could not work her and he had been acquainted with her only for the short space of six weeks. What seems strange in reference to these and many other suicides is the total lack of any sense of moral responsibility for the act of self-destruction. It is not an uncommon thing to find women, and even men, presuming to invoke God's mercy even while they are in the act of violating his commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," which forbids suicide as well as murder.

From this it is very evident that the parties do not regard suicide as a crime, although it is no less in the criminal code. For this moral turpitude, some German writers may be more or less responsible. One such writer has published a book advocating suicide as a ready means of escape from suffering or a life of misery and without moral criminality. The same authority favored painless death in cases of incurable disease, and such teachings have had their effect and will so continue unless counteracted by the religious doctrine that suicide is a crime in the same class as murder and therefore never justified.

When the crime is analyzed it will generally be found to have resulted from a lack of moral courage in facing the problems of life. Those who commit suicide want to get away from a state of misery brought on by fast living or some other cause, or else to hide their guilt and shame, because on account of their misdoings they are ashamed to meet their acquaintances or unable to hear the just criticism of their conduct.

In other words, they are either criminals or cowards and in a great many cases they may be both. Except in case of mental derangement, suicide is a confession of weakness, guilt or cowardice and a sure sign that the victim is not availed by any moral or religious code.

LESSON AUTO FATALITIES

Registrar Goodwin has already sent out a note of warning against reckless driving of autos and appeal for caution and safety. The statistics of accidents show an alarming state of affairs due mainly to carelessness and intoxication. In 1912 the number of people killed in motor accidents in this state was 532, and in 1920 and 1921 the numbers were 430 and 405 respectively. This shows a downward tendency as a result of Mr. Goodwin's work but there is need of further reduction. Indeed, the present casualties, fatal and otherwise, could be reduced by half by strict enforcement of the laws and by co-operation of the police of the various cities with the state authorities.

In the last three years, nearly 4000 people were killed in Massachusetts and $1,000,000 injured. Last year, there were 126,033 collisions, of which 6,000 were between street cars and automobiles. There is one rule of the highways that is violated daily in every city in the state. It is that which requires motorists to slow down to a speed of not over eight miles an hour at street intersections in thickly settled localities. In most cases, they speed over such street crossings at a rate of from twelve to twenty-five miles. In some cases when they meet other vehicles in their path, they are able to escape by a sudden turn to the side but in doing this, they are liable to run into somebody or to dash into a fence, a telephone pole or other obstruction. While the sudden turn may be made safely at low speed, at a high rate, it is unusually very hazardous to the occupants of the vehicle as well as to persons who happen to be in the way.

The speed mania must be banished, no more the drunken chauffeur and the bootlegger who sports a fancy automobile, which is nothing more or less than a respectable medium for carrying on the illicit liquor business, often by smuggling it through from Canada. Citizens, police and the general public should co-operate in the movement to lessen the number of automobile accidents. In this line, a heavy responsibility rests upon the shoulders of parents in seeing that young children are kept from running at large on the public streets. In hundreds of cases in which children were killed the innocent resulted in clearing the auto drivers of all blame. The blame rested with the parents. Those who go to work daily and leave children under

WIRED FOR RADIO

A Philadelphia builder advertises that all the houses he is erecting are being wired for radio, telephone service. That starts a lot of talk. Americans like nothing more than a thing with the latest improvements. A few years hence prospective tenants, after inspecting a house, will say: "Plenty of closet room, a large bath, good plumbing, everything convenient. You have, of course, an airplane landing on the roof?" Airplanes soon will start off by rising straight up in the air. Airplane landings on house roofs will be as common as garages are now.

THE GERMAN WAY

A French business expert, pointing out that Germany is underselling all nations, comments that the German salesman's greatest help is his ability to extend a customer any amount of credit, with anywhere from four months to a year to pay. "That is our greatest foreign trade problem. Some way, it can and will be solved. We are the world's richest nation, and have a fabulous hoard of gold on which to base credits."

COST OF ROADS

The cost of keeping up American roads and building new ones last year was $4 for every man, woman and child—after deducting money from auto license fees. So reports the National Automobile chamber of commerce. It is equivalent to a cent and a tenth a day for each of us. To save that much, few would surrender the street in front of their houses. Roads are one of the greatest essentials of our modern system of civilization.

Later is evidently spelling for a fight when she sends forces to make trouble along the border, just as if the boundary line were in danger of being stolen. Bomb-throwing into the dwellings of Sinn Féin sympathizers is a most daily occurrence and the victims are chiefly women and children, while gunmen operate on the streets or from the house tops. The crucial aspect of the situation is that those who are known to be in sympathy with the nationalist elements have been disarmed while the supporters of the northern government are allowed to carry arms and even to store ammunition in their homes.

The overseers of the poor of the city of Boston refused to grant a tag day for the benefit of the textile workers in New Hampshire. Possibly the overseers felt that if any such tag day were authorized, the textile strikers in Massachusetts should share in its results. Experience has taught, however, that such tag days do not bring such generous results as formerly. There have been so many of them and for so many various movements, that people are getting tired of tag days except for some cause that appeals to them in a rather personal way.

Southern competition in textiles is still to the fore as a bugaboo. Now it is the Lawrence Duck company that talks of going south on account of the longer hours of labor. But it should be remembered that New England operatives do as much in 48 hours as do the southerners in 64. Is not this an advantage over the south?

Secretary Weeks has done the right thing in ordering the American troops home from the Rhine so that all will have left by July 1. "This is the result of the dismay shown by the allies on being asked to pay the expense of keeping the soldiers there since Armistice day."

Now that the Antigonish ghost is laid, it is in order to await some new exhibition of the mysterious. The recent ghost revelations confirm the maxim of a well known writer to the effect that the ghost, like true love, is something that everybody talks of but few have seen.

If the republicans can manage to put the traitors over, they will regard the result as a victory, although the opponents have offered rather convincing proofs that the four-part treaty constitutes an alliance of the offensive and a long line.

Emma Goldman is to write syndicated articles for American newspapers on the communistic cruelties practiced on the people of Russia. Can it be that Emma has seen the light at last?

Senator Walsh is opposed to the formation of a new party to supplant the present democratic organization. Very naturally it would result only in disruption.

MORGAN'S SON TO WORK IN LONDON BANK

NEW YORK, March 21.—Junius S. Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan and a member of his father's banking firm, will follow in the paternal footsteps by working in London to familiarize himself with banking methods. It was announced today. He will be associated with the British branch of the Morgan banking firm, Morgan, Grenfell & Co. He expects to remain in England several years.

SEEN AND HEARD

It's spring. Two men changing places in a canoe swim ashore.

"Arabians great each other by placing cheek to cheek"—news item. But they were dancing.

The Very Reason. Jones—Were coming to see you tonight, old man. Smith—Good, but don't let your wife wear her new costume. I don't want the nine to see it just now. Jones—Great Scott! That's the very reason we're coming!

A Word a Day. Today's word is concomitant. It's pronounced—kon-kom-ee-tant, with accent on the second syllable. It means—that which accompanies, an associate, a companion, that which goes along with. It comes from Latin "com," meaning "with" and "comitari," to accompany. Companion word—concomitance. It's used like this—"Sneezing and a feeling of lassitude are usually concomitants of a cold."

British Navy. A retired English naval officer said that he could not understand all that was said at the London conference. He said that the British be without her navy? Had we forgotten Trafalgar? Was it not our glory and our tradition to maintain the freedom of the seas? It was pointed out to him that this was an attempt—wise or not, as events may prove—to remove the menace from the old sea warrior, bristling. "What's the confounded sea for?"

Locust? Preachers. The local conference was over and the hostesses were returning from seeing the visitors off at the station. "Who did you have Mrs. Brown?" asked Mrs. Jones. "O, I had a very nice minister," replied Mrs. Brown. "Who did you have?" "Well, I had two locust preachers," "O, you mean two locust preachers," Mrs. Brown was the reply. "But locusts are those things which come in swarms and eat up everything, and—" "That's right," said her friend, "I had two of them!"

Thought for Today. It is far easier to feel kindly, to act kindly, toward those with whom we are seldom brought into contact, whose tempers and prejudices do not rub against our own, whose interests do not clash with ours, than to keep up an habitual, steady and self-sacrificing love toward those whose weaknesses and faults are always forcing themselves upon us and are stirring up our own. A man may pass good money as a miser, but a woman who makes but a poor mother of her servants, or father to his children.—Frederick D. Maurice.

The Solitary Hero. A battalion of British soldiers in India had to make a forced march of 50 miles to the scene of a reported rising of the natives. When they got there they found it was a false alarm, and the commanding officer told them the most important lesson to be learned from the story of the weary ones, he cried: "If there is any man who does not want to march back, let him step three times forward." A whole battalion, with the exception of one man, stepped forward. "My good man," said the C.O., "you are a credit to the army. You are the only man willing to march back 30 miles." The solitary hero stared blankly at the C.O. "March back 30 miles," he stuttered. "Why, I'm too tired even to step forward three paces!"

New Every Morning. Every day is a fresh beginning. Every morning is the world made new. You, who are weary of sorrow—awaken!

Here is a beautiful hope for you—A hope for me and a hope for you. All the past things are done and are shed. Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover. Yesterday's wounds which snarled and bled.

Arise, healed with the healing which night has shed. Yesterday now is a part of forever. Bound up in a sheaf, which God holds With glad days, and sad days, and hard days, which never Shall pass us more with their bloom and light.

Their fullness of sunshine or sorrowful night. Let them go, since we cannot relieve them. Cannot undo, and cannot atone; God in His mercy, receive and forgive.

Only the new days are our own; Today is ours and today alone. Here are the skies all burrashed and bright.

Here is the spent earth all reborn, Here are the tired limbs springing lightly, To face the sun and to share with the morn.

In the charm of the dew and the cool of the dawn. Every day is a fresh beginning. Listen, my soul, to the glad refrain. And in spite of all sorrow and elder staining.

And puzzles forecasted and possible pain. Take heart with the day and begin again.

Lowell, Mass., March 20, 1922.

Editor of The Lowell Sun:

Dear Sir: I am a reader of your valuable paper for over 30 years and I would like you to print the following answer to the Courier-Citizen of yesterday morning's report about the cut in wages in the tannery industry for the past year. In January, 1921, the average cut was 27 per cent. In February, 1922, a second cut, an average of 24 per cent, in March, 1922, a third cut, an average of 10 per cent. This makes in all an average cut of 61 per cent. This is God's honest truth. The Courier-Citizen prints the following, that the wages in the tannery industry were cut 27 per cent. That is a 33 per cent cut. This cut at present would bring the wages of more than half of the men down below $20 per week, full time.

65 Automobiles Destroyed by Fire Which Swept Through Big Garage

Explosions of Gasoline Blew Off Roof—Flames Escaped Toward Church

MEDFORD, March 21.—Sixty-five automobiles were destroyed by fire which early today swept through the West Medford Garage on Harvard street. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Explosions of gasoline blew off the roof of the story and a half concrete structure, allowing the flames to escape toward St. Raphael's Catholic church in the rear on High street. The sides of the church were scorched but the fire was kept within the garage.

Four automobiles were saved. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Richard Barthelmess—He's Alger Hero of Movie World

LOUISE HUFF, WHO PLAYS
OPPOSITE RICHARD BARTHELMESS
IN "THE SEVENTH DAY"

RICHARD BARTHELMESS, HER A TRUE HORATIO ALGER HERO
IN "THE SEVENTH DAY"

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, March 21.—Richard Barthelmess is heaving his way to cinema fame by employing the Horatio Alger theme. That is after the sumner of Charles Ray, who gained stardom and held great popularity through such films for several years. The Alger idea of a poor boy overcoming all obstacles has been the motive of both Barthelmess' starring pictures, "Tollable David" and "The Seventh Day."

In the latter picture Dick comes into command of his uncle's fishing schooner just when a crippled yacht lumps into his home port.

The yacht carries a party of New York flappers and cake eaters, young fellows doing their best to spend their father's money. Dick falls in love with one of the flappers, Louise Huff. She is engaged to one of the white-necked nabobs on the launch—they got that way because they had nothing else to do—but in the end Dick wins her. To balance the romance, the young dude wins Dick's sister.

But there is more to this story than this slender romance. "The Seventh Day" is a reflection of the present day life of young America—gray shooting flappers and flask-toting-he-dappers.

In the old days a young fellow had the idea he was a sport if he went about with a pistol on his hip. Girls thought he was a regular fellow then. Today the flask supplants the firearm in the young idea of being a good sport.

In the picture one youngster pulls out a flask given him by his mother, another by his father and two by his old sisters in boarding school.

There is no film preachment against these things as horrible immorality. They serve to make a contrast for the Alger character of the hero.

This is the first film I have seen in which the youth of the country is depicted true to life.

More than 200,000 feet of film were used in the production of "One Clear Call." This will be cut to $5000 feet for exhibition. Milton Sills, Claire Windsor, Irene Rich and Henry B. Walthall are featured.

One interesting thing we'd like to see—the income tax returns of movie stars with million-dollar salaries.

"Rose of the Sea" originally had an English setting, but Anita Stewart's film version is in an American locale. The movie even changes the map to suit convenience of caprice.

Hay, wait a minute! "Val of Paradise" has been changed to "North of the Rio Grande." Maybe you'd like to know that before catching the train.

"Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," "Broadway After Dark" and "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," are going to be done in the movies. No joking. A. H. Woods has sold film rights to Warner Brothers.

Eileen Percy is leading woman in "Pardon My Nerve," starring Charles Jones.

Shirley Mason completes "The Ragged Dicks."

MARY AND MABEL GOING ABROAD

Mary Miles Minter (left) has sailed for the Orient. She has been in seclusion since the death of William D. Taylor, movie director, about whose death she expressed deep grief. Mabel Normand, also a friend of the murdered director, has announced that she will go to Europe when she completes her present picture.

that the flask-toting youth is a true mirror of young America. For proof—almost every department and jewelry store in New York carries a varied assortment of flasks in hammered and plain silver.

Such articles would not be manufactured and carried in stock if there were no market for them. There is a big market for them. You may see a flask pulled furtively, or boldly, from a hip pocket in almost any New York restaurant.

And in the windows of Broadway and Fifth Avenue stores that are patronized exclusively by women you may see little cubes with dots on them, the number of dots on any two opposite sides total somebody or other told me that these things are dice and that you shoot crap with them. In the windows they are in a silver case. Maybe the girls wear them for lavallieres.

More than 200,000 feet of film were used in the production of "One Clear Call." This will be cut to $5000 feet for exhibition. Milton Sills, Claire Windsor, Irene Rich and Henry B. Walthall are featured.

One interesting thing we'd like to see—the income tax returns of movie stars with million-dollar salaries.

"Rose of the Sea" originally had an English setting, but Anita Stewart's film version is in an American locale. The movie even changes the map to suit convenience of caprice.

Hay, wait a minute! "Val of Paradise" has been changed to "North of the Rio Grande." Maybe you'd like to know that before catching the train.

"Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," "Broadway After Dark" and "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," are going to be done in the movies. No joking. A. H. Woods has sold film rights to Warner Brothers.

Sylvia Bremer is leading woman in William Russell's new film.

Eileen Percy is leading woman in "Pardon My Nerve," starring Charles Jones.

Shirley Mason completes "The Ragged Dicks."

Lucien Rix, leading man for Henry Porten in a number of European pictures, is now in America to play in films made here.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. P. KEITH'S THEATRE

One of the most interesting side-lights on "The Come Backs," now appearing at B. P. Keith's theatre, is the combined ages of the five men in the act, which is more than 330 years.

Each of the members of the company have appeared in this city in the long ago when famous minstrel companies were at the apex of their popularity. Each man is as old as a specialist in some branch of minstrelsy, although, according to reports, they were actively engaged in stage work before the great majority of the audience was born or old enough to attend theatrical performances.

The five men are Joseph M. Norcross, James B. Brady, Eddie Moran, George Cunningham and Al Edwards. Mr. Norcross is the oldest living minstrel, being a charter member of Lodge No. 1, the oldest minstrel troupe in America.

Mr. Moran is a dancer and acrobat of note, who today is in a position to give lessons to many a young actor, while Mr. Brady is a comedian, a specialist in some branch of minstrelsy, although, according to reports, they were actively engaged in stage work before the great majority of the audience was born or old enough to attend theatrical performances.

He finds himself in partnership with an ambitious young fellow, Bill Merrick, and he leads Merrick to believe that he has very meagre means and has a wife and daughter to support. Grant & Merrick find themselves swindled out of most of their capital by a tricky garage owner, but they put up a lively fight and win in the end.

His wife and daughter are unaware of his new business venture, until the daughter, Angelica, does a bit of sleuthing. It develops that she and her mother were in the army heading for the battlefields of France, and naturally the renewal of acquaintance means the two parties falling in love.

Jury Finds Gordon L. Pickering Not Guilty on Complaint Charging Assault

Gordon L. Pickering of this city was yesterday found not guilty of assault with intent to rape when he was tried before a superior criminal court jury in East Cambridge. The jury was out a little less than half an hour in making its finding.

Although the grand jury indicted Pickering on two separate counts it is probable he will not be brought to trial on the other count, which charged him with abuse of a female child under the age of 18 years. The case tried yesterday was the Anna Hebert case in which the cries of a young woman aroused the inhabitants of Clark road on the night of January 9, and led to Pickering's arrest a short while later. Pickering was brought in on two warrants several weeks ago. The first of these charged him with assault with intent to rape. The complaint was Anna Hebert and the alleged assault was said to have been committed on January 9 of this year.

The complaint in the second case charged him with abuse of a female child under the age of 18 years. The alleged assault was said to have been committed on Rosilda Surprenant on July 15, 1921. The cases were tried before Judge Fleher and in both cases the evidence was deemed sufficient to hold Pickering for the grand jury. At a subsequent sitting of this body Pickering was indicted in connection with both cases.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Plans for the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., which is to be held some time early in April, were formed at the regular meeting of the board of governors which took place last night, with L. A. Olney in the chair. A nominating committee was named, as follows: Otis W. Butler, Charles E. Flannings and Herbert Horne. Activities during the last month were shown in the monthly reports, which, according to General Secretary H. F. Howe, demonstrated that the local association has assumed a position among the leading organizations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

A survey of the housing situation was recently made in Minneapolis by the mail carriers.

Providence was the first city in the United States to have open air schools.

The Salem, Brockton, Lawrence and Lynn districts of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, having made the best financial showing during the past three months, the trustees announce that, in accordance with their "service-at-cost plan," fare reductions, which will result in a yearly saving of $200,000 to the public, will go into effect Monday, April 2.

In the Lawrence district 17-ride tickets will be sold for 95 cents; in Lynn, 19 rides for $1, and in Salem 17 rides for $1. A 13-ride ticket will be issued for $1 to car riders in Methuen and outlying towns where the fare is 10 cents.

In Brockton the city zone ticket is so remain 17 rides for $1, and the 11-ride ticket for $1 in the suburbs will be replaced by a 16-ride ticket.

The trustees state that it will be impossible to consider fare reductions in other districts until business conditions there improve.

FIRST REPORTS ON Y. W. C. A. BUDGET

At a supper held at the Y. W. C. A. rooms last night, the first reports on the $15,000 budget campaign for the association showed that the sum of $1770.50 has been collected to date, and although the total did not fulfill the expectations of the solicitors one and all expressed confidence of ultimate success.

The first report was that of the women's division, amounting to $522. Next came the business women's division, with a report of $347.50. Mrs. Olney, chairman of the special gifts committee, announced a gift of $500, bringing the grand total for the evening to $1670.50.

The delicious supper which was provided was in charge of Mrs. Herbert Trull, assisted by Mrs. G. A. Taylor, Miss Gene Cameron and Miss Frances Trull, with several of the house girls serving as waitresses.

Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer had charge of the program, and cheering remarks were heard from the pastor of the Elliot Congregational church, Dr. William R. Tutbill. Dr. Tutbill remarked that the workers seemed to need no incentive to good works. Miss Hobbs spoke of a visit to Lawrence where a $25,000 campaign has been successfully conducted, although the workers of that city had an advantage of a $10,000 donation for their International Institute. She expressed confidence that Lowell would succeed in its purpose, for she had never seen a better or more enthusiastic group of workers.

Beginning today a window of the Chaffoux company will be used to record the progress of the campaign and to stress the facts connected with the association in its work for women and girls. The next report will be made at a luncheon to be given next Wednesday at 12.30.

SPITTING HELPS TO SPREAD INFLUENZA

BY DR. R. H. BISCUOP

Whatever causes are chiefly responsible for the large number of cases of influenza and grippe and their arch-ally, pneumonia, it is certain that the great amount of promiscuous spitting does not help in preventing the spread of these diseases.

It may be that the malignant effects of spitting are not exceedingly great, yet, since we cannot estimate the number of cases due to this cause, it would be a wise thing for all communities to become strict about this matter.

Most towns and communities have anti-spitting ordinances, which are persistently broken thousands of times daily.

It is a common sight to see people, old and young, of both sexes, spit on the sidewalk.

It is not only an indecent habit but rather grates on the finer sensibilities of right-minded people but it is patently a dangerous menace to the health of us all.

The germ of tuberculosis is present in millions in the spit of a consumptive. It is almost entirely from the spit of consumptives that the germ of this dread disease is communicated to others.

It is reasonable then to state that much "flu" and grippe could be prevented by public health officials if they would start an active campaign against spitting in public places.

Promiscuous coughing is also a public menace, especially in street cars and motor buses.

Why not dig up those dusty, anti-spitting laws and put them in force?

HEALTH BOARD HAS WEEKLY MEETING

The weekly meeting of the members of the board of health was held yesterday afternoon. Dr. Foster H. Smith, superintendent of the isolation hospital, appeared at the meeting and informed the board of the condition of the fruit trees on the grounds of the hospital as a result of the big, sleet storm last winter. The board instructed Agent O'Hare to have the trees treated for the injuries which they sustained, and he was authorized to confer with Supt. Gordon of the moth department and to take the necessary steps to preserve the trees before the sap starts running.

Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, director of the sub-division of school hygiene, outlined his plans for the establishment of a Sebek test clinic for the detection of diphtheria among the children of the schools and he stated he expected to be ready to start the clinic about April 1.

The annual spring cleaning-up campaign was discussed at length and the agent was instructed to issue a request to all householders to rid their yards, grounds and alleys of any debris which might have accumulated during the winter months. The agent stated he would start the campaign as soon as weather conditions are favorable.

FREE STATE DELEGATES SO NERVOUS SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Ask American Friends to Leave Settlement to Irish People

NEW YORK, March 21—"All that Ireland asks of its friends in America now is that, in the struggle between Free Staters and the republicans, they remain neutral. This is a vital question for the Irish. They should be left to settle it for themselves. It will be brought to a decision in our election in April, and our people will vote on the new constitution which is being drawn up, and also on the Free State treaty."

This was the appeal last night of Gen. Francis Beasly, commander of the Irish republican army, who arrived from Ireland Friday as one of three sent here by the Griffith-Collins contingent to offset the propaganda of those led by Eamon de Valera.

Accompanying the general, who is also a journalist and dramatist, being the editor of "An Toglach" (The Volunteer), the official journal of the I.R.A., is Janier O'Mara and Simon Mac-Caolte. Jointly they issued the following statement:

"We wish to make it perfectly clear that we have not come to America to back Irish internal political differences, the subject of an agitation in the United States. We have come:

"1. As a gesture of friendship to the American people to greet them in the name of the new government of Ireland and to thank them for the material support we have received from them in our struggle for freedom.

"2. To explain the new status of Ireland and the policy of the new Free State and to encourage the cultivating of friendly relations between the two states.

"3. To interest the American people in the sciences of national reconstruction and cultural development in Ireland to which the hands of the new Free State are devoting themselves.

"4. To ask that no encouragement be given by those of our own blood in America or the American people as a whole, to any attempt to subvert or hamper the work of the trusted leaders of the majority of the Irish people.

"5. To promote the redemption by the Irish government of the millions subordinated in America for the Irish National loan and to assure them that no further financial aid will be required."

The general added: "We claim the treaty gives us the substance of the liberty for which we fought—freedom from foreign occupation and foreign control—and the entire mastery of our own affairs."

DEADLOCK IN LYNN WAGE DISPUTE

LYNN, March 21.—A committee representing the Lynn Shoe Manufacturers' association met the central committee of the Lynn joint council of the United Shoe Workers of America yesterday in an effort to readjust the long-standing wage dispute. The manufacturers said they would insist upon a 20 per cent wage cut and a 5-day week, while the union committee held to its demand for a 10 per cent wage cut and a 5-day week during five months of the year.

The rate committee will report to the joint council before further negotiations are undertaken.

Pimples Blackheads Boils

Fleischmann's fresh yeast

It is well known that pimples and blackheads (acne) and boils are often caused by errors of diet.

Fleischmann's Yeast is now being recommended for these embarrassing and painful skin troubles because fresh yeast corrects the errors of diet which cause them.

The surgeon of one important New York hospital states: "I have used yeast extensively and found it invaluable in curing boils." When 17 cases of pimples (acne) were treated with Fleischmann's Yeast at hospitals in New York and Philadelphia the results were remarkable. Typical of these was the case of a young man who had suffered with pimples for three years. He ate three cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast daily before meals. In five weeks the eruption had cleared completely.

Today physicians and hospitals are using Fleischmann's fresh yeast as the most efficacious remedy for pimples and boils.

If you are ever troubled with pimples or boils, begin at once to correct them by eating 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast every day before or between meals.

UNWRITTEN AGREEMENT

Charges of Pact Between U. S. and Britain—Stormy Debate in Senate

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Charges of an unwritten agreement between the United States and Great Britain to act together in any case arising under the four power Pacific treaty brought on another storm of debate today in the senate.

Senator Borah started the fireworks by reading a statement said to have been made by Paul D. Cravath a New York lawyer saying he had been "told by every member of the American delegation" that an understanding for future cooperation between the two governments in any emergency in the Pacific had been reached at the arms conference.

The assertion promptly was denied by both Senators Lodge, republican, Massachusetts, and Underwood, democrat, Alabama, both of whom were members of the delegation.

"I have never had a conversation with Mr. Cravath about it all," said Senator Lodge, "and I know of no such agreement or understanding with Great Britain. There is not a word of truth in it so far as I know."

"And I certainly made no such statement," Senator Underwood said, "and I never met Mr. Cravath so far as I remember. I would not consider the incident worthy of notice had it not been brought up in the floor of the senate. But to have it go out from here uncontradicted would be a menace to our government, because it might affect relations with great powers. It is dangerous and I would not allow it to go out without an absolute and unqualified contradiction."

"Where is your patriotism? Do you no longer believe in and trust your government? Can you believe that your government would make a secret compact with other powers and then before the ink was dry turn around and enter into a secret agreement and enter into a secret agreement? It would be infamous if true. It is absolutely untrue and I would call it by a stronger name if I were not speaking on the floor of the senate."

Senator Borah said he only had brought in the statement because it represented some of the greatest interests in this country. Interests that in some respects were detaching the foreign policy of this country.

He added that he knew that before making his statement Mr. Cravath had conferred with Elihu Root, another member of the American delegation.

WITHDRAWS OPINION IN CABOT-WESTON CASE

BOSTON, March 20.—The supreme court today withdrew the opinion and reserving handed down recently overruling exceptions taken by Geoffrey L. Cabot, Robert D. Weston and Hector M. Holmes to superior court findings on charges of receiving stolen papers from the law office of Daniel H. Conkley. Cabot was found not guilty because of variance between the indictment and the proof and the others were found guilty and fined $300 each.

The withdrawal followed a motion by Edward F. McClellan, counsel for Cabot, Weston and Holmes, for a rehearing of the case. In a letter to Chief Justice Rugg, McClellan asserted that the court's opinion was in conflict with a decision of its own made in January, 1919. At that time in the case of London versus the Bay State Street Railway Co., the attorney said it was held that exceptions of the defendant must be sustained because during argument by the plaintiff's counsel for the defendant called the court's attention to prejudicial statements. It was held that the presiding judge in his charge did not correct the error.

McClellan said that when he started to argue the issue of the parallel case before the full bench Chief Justice Rugg said he might assume the court's familiarity with the decision. The latter asserted that McClellan then stopped his argument and the point therefore was not presented to the full court. He added that the judge who presided at the defendant's trial failed to instruct the jury as to prejudicial statements made by John P. Peeney, then an assistant district attorney.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS DOUBT KIDNAPPING

NEW YORK, March 20.—Ellis Island officials today expressed doubt concerning the story told by August Probst, a Swiss butler detained for deportation on suspicion of insanity, that he was the victim of kidnapping to keep him from marrying a wealthy Pittsburgh girl. Probst, who has instituted habeas corpus proceedings, is expected to tell his story to Federal Judge Knox tomorrow.

"Probst arrived here on the steamer Olympia from England last June, was reported as a deserter, and was arrested by Agent McCormick at Trenton, N. J., on Feb. 27," said Harry H. Landis, assistant immigration commissioner.

Major G. M. Corput, assistant chief medical examiner at the island, declared that Probst had been examined, found mentally sane, and detained in the psychiatric ward.

Probst in an affidavit declared that he was formerly a butler in the Rolling Rock club at Ligonier, Pa., where the romance is said to have begun. He claims that the daughter of the club kidnapped him at the point of a gun, forced him onto the train and told him to leave the country.

He insists that he first met the girl in the case, who is said to be well known in Washington, D. C., and social circles, at the club and that she soon began to care for him, as he did for her. Probst declares that he went to the girl's father to tell of his love and that immediately after that he was forced to leave Ligonier.

The Swiss butler went as far as Philadelphia alone, he says. He was met there by two men who took him to an apartment here awaiting the purchase of a steamship ticket to London.

The Swiss consul, however, refused to give him a passport and later he was taken to Ellis Island.

Total construction in British shipyards in 1921 was 1,528,000 tons.

LEWISTON, Me., March 20.—County Attorney Berman has ordered an investigation of the death of Joseph Morchovitz of Lewiston, who died yesterday in great agony, after eating chocolate-covered cherries purchased at a suburban grocery. A younger brother, Stanley Morchovitz, Jr., was seriously ill, but recovered. Names of the brand of cherries and of the grocery are withheld by the police. An autopsy was performed by County Medical Examiner Haskell, who sent the stomach to Bowdoin college for analysis.

SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

Harding and Mellon Accused of "Offering Bribe to War Veterans"

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The charge that President Harding and Secretary Mellon "boldly offer a bribe to the world war veterans to espouse the cause of the money powers in their efforts to establish as a part of our revenue system the vicious policy of a general sales tax" is made in a minority report on the soldiers' bonus bill filed today by Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, ranking democrat of the ways and means committee and four other minority members of that committee.

The other four representatives are Oldfield, Kansas; Crisp of Georgia; Carey of New York and Taggart of Massachusetts.

The report attacks the bank loan provision and declares in favor of cash payments to the veterans. It proposes the legislation be financed by reenactment of the excess profits tax with a specific exemption of $50,000, and a restoration of the 65 per cent war time income surtax rate.

WORK ON NEW BANK BUILDING

BOSTON, March 20.—Work has begun on the new building of the First National bank, which will be erected on the corners of Milk, Federal and Devonshire streets, opposite the postoffice. The bank acquired its new property about three years ago, and the task of tearing down the building, known variously as "The Equitable building," "The Master Building" and the "Old John Hancock building," which has occupied that site for many years, is now well under way.

The new structure will be 10 stories above the sidewalk and two stories below, with a third lower story for heating, ventilating and other mechanical apparatus.

Old Whaling Bark Lost at Sea

NEW BEDFORD, March 20.—The old whaling bark Greyhound, second oldest whaler afloat, has been lost at sea off the coast of Guinea according to a cablegram received here from St. Vincent. All the crew was saved. The Greyhound which formerly hunted the whales in every sea of the globe, since 1920 has been operating as a Cape Verde packet. She sailed from this port last November for the Cape Verde Islands, and later left the islands on trading business to the coast of Africa.

N. Y. and Paris Dressmakers Fail

NEW YORK, March 20.—An involuntary bankruptcy petition against Lucile, Ltd., dressmakers, of New York and Paris, was filed here today, listing liabilities at $175,000, and assets at $75,000. Federal Judge Knox appointed James K. Gaddy and G. H. Tolman joint receivers under $20,000 bonds. The Lucile house for years has been one of the most prominent in the creation of apparel for women.

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 13 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 818 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman.

HOW TO GET COLORED CLOTHES CLEAN WITH-OUT FADING THEM
Colored clothes seem to get more than their share of dirt. Play-clothes the children romp in—colored shirts and overalls the men work in—house dresses and kitchen aprons.
Haven't you done three-fourths of your washboard rubbing on those things? Rubbed till the color came out with the dirt?
Don't rub them again. Just soak them clean in Rinso suds. A half hour in these big lasting suds gently loosens all the dirt without weakening a single thread. Only the worst spots of all need a light rubbing. Try a little dry Rinso on these.
Rinso, the new kind of soap, is replacing bar soap in American homes.

Adventures of the Twins

THE PASTRY MAN USED TO HAVE HIS SHOP NEAR HERE.

The rubber mountain went on with his story:
 "Yes, I ought to be called plump pudding mountain because that's what I'm made of. The pastry man used to have his shop near here, and when he made plump puddings that weren't good he dumped 'em on this spot. After a while they grew together and then I became me. I really am rubber now, but don't talk to me of indigestion. I've got all the indigestion I saved other people who didn't eat me."
 "Well," said Nick, "Nancy and I have our Green Shoes, so we'll just wish ourselves down on the other side. We'll not walk on you any more."
 "Oh, no, you can't," replied the mountain quickly. "Not here, where ever would get to the Kingdom of the Diddyevers must say he has walked over the Seven Mountains, and whoever would get to the Kingdom of the Kooksnotts must tell the gate keeper that he has walked through the Seven Valleys. I tell you what I'll do. I'll hold my breath until you get down on the other side. But before you go I'll give you a word of warning about the next mountain. It is made of glass, and for every step up you will slide two steps down. The only way you can get over is to go backwards."
 "First jump up backwards as far as you can, after that every step you take will carry you two steps in the other direction. The mountain won't know the difference."
 "Thank you," said Nancy. "Then we'd better be going."
 The mountain held his breath and the Twins scrambled up to his top and down the other side as fast as they could go. But even after they had put a long distance between them and the tickish old mountain they could hear him in, hallooing, and ho, hallooing, and heaving, and shaking so hard the whole earth trembled.

MANAGER FOR THE BELMONT SHOP
 Albert L. Churchman, for the past 15 years buyer and manager of the ready to wear department of the A. G. Pollard company, has been appointed manager of the Belmont Lowell shop, 133-135 Merrimack street.

Miss Vera Moody will be assistant manager. Miss Helen J. McCann will be cashier and office manager. Both Miss Moody and Miss McCann are very well known to the shopping public of Lowell, having been connected for years with the White Store, formerly located at 114 Merrimack street.

The Belmont Lowell shop is operated by the Belmont stores corporation, 151 Fifth avenue, New York, and will carry, at popular prices, high grade wearing apparel for women and misses.

At present the Belmont stores corporation has 12 stores either in operation or shortly to be opened.

Lowell is the first location chosen in New England. There are several New Englanders in the Belmont organization, and all of them will take personal pride and interest in making the Belmont Lowell shop a credit to Lowell.

Both Mr. King, merchandise manager, and Mr. Carleton Garrett, supervisor of stores for the corporation, obtained their first retail training in Lowell. So there is already a strong link between the city and the company.

Alterations will be completed in about four weeks, and it is expected that the new store will open about the middle of April.

LOYAL WAMEST LIDGE
 A regular meeting of Loyal Wamest lodge, 7102 1.0.0.F.M.A.U., was held last evening in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, with N. O. Frank Rawling in the chair. Two new members were elected by ballot and one new member was obligated. Routine business was transacted and questions of great importance to the members were discussed.

JOINT RATE DECISION IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, March 21.—An order suspending enforcement of the Interstate Commerce commission's recent order reappointing joint rates collected by Eastern and New England carriers, and directing the government to show cause why a permanent injunction against the order should not be granted, was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Julius Mayer. The reappointment was made effective March 1.

The order was granted on application of counsel for nearly 100 railroads, who submitted a petition asserting that the rate ruling was arbitrary and outside the powers of the commission. The proceedings were said to constitute the first case in which the powers of the Interstate Commerce commission as exercised under the transportation act of 1910, have been questioned. Nearly all eastern roads, with the exception of the New York Central, the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, joined in the petition. They stated that a joint rate agreement among themselves and other roads operating between New England and points north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river, would be upset by the commission's ruling, which reduced, by 15 per cent, the proportion of joint rates on international shipments given to eastern lines and added the percentage to the amount allocated New England carriers.

The New England roads whose complaints led to the making of the order by the commission are the Central New England, Bangor & Arundel, Boston & Maine, Central Vermont, Maine Central, New York, New Haven and Hartford, Rutland, and their subsidiaries and operated lines.

It was announced last night that the New York Central, the only one of the big eastern roads extending into New England to remain out of the joint court action, will conduct an independent suit against the commission's ruling.

MISSING GIRL
STUDENT FOUND

CHICAGO, March 21.—Miss Edna Taylor, 21 years old, University of Chicago student, missing since Thursday, when she started for New York to visit her parents, was found yesterday in a lodging-house here.

She explained her absence by saying she had lost her purse containing $50 while on the way to the railroad station Thursday and had then conceived the idea of working to raise enough money to visit her home.

She obtained a room in the lodging-house under an assumed name and later got a position as clerk in a broker's office at $18 a week. She also got a position which required only an hour of her time each evening as companion to Mrs. M. B. Robinson, wife of a coal merchant. The latter position paid her $1 a night.

When she awoke yesterday morning she said she found just five cents in her purse and, after hesitating as to whether to buy a newspaper or a cup of coffee, bought the coffee and walked five miles into the city. She said that she had not seen newspaper accounts of her disappearance; that her decision to earn her own living was just a "lark," and that she wanted to be "independent" and could not see why anyone should be interested in her movements.

Municipal Council Recommends and Approves Budget For 1922

Amount Approved By Council is $5000 Less Than Figures Recommended By Mayor Brown—Isolation Hospital, Health Yard and Ash Collection Estimates Cut—Table of Estimates and Mayor's and Council's Recommendations

The city council last night recommended and approved a budget for 1922 amounting to $4,270,415.55, which is approximately $5000 less than the recommended figures of Mayor Brown, which in turn were slightly under those of the budget and audit commission.

It is a budget figure that will allow the election commissioners to add at least two new voting precincts in overcrowded wards, allow a salary increase of $25 a year for Patrick J. Reynolds, registrar of civil service, but cuts out all other increases, previously recommended or taken under further consideration.

Decreases from the figures presented by the mayor occurred in the estimates of the isolation hospital, which was cut $5000; the health yard, which was cut $5000; and the ash collection department, which was cut $10,000. Increases were made in the assessors' department, the Chestnut Street hospital, civil service, care of soldiers' graves, street lighting and election commissioners. A contingency fund of $1000 was allowed for the councilors and $500 was voted for the disabled war veterans for Memorial day.

The ordinance creating a superintendent of employment finally passed the council by a vote of 8 to 6 and an order transferring $10,000 from the over- lay of 1919 to the park department, was unanimously passed.

Scheduled to convene at 8 o'clock, it was not until 10:45 o'clock that the council came into the chamber. A recess session for the purpose of being the budget figures was held in the mayor's reception room from 8:30 until the time of convening.

The council voted to accept the budget, department by department, in total amounting to $4,270,415.55. It will remain in the office of the city clerk for seven days before passage.

An order, introduced by Councilor Gallagher, to transfer $10,000 from the overlay of 1919 to the park department for extraordinary work, was passed.

Councilor Gallagher moved that the council reconsider its vote on the ordinance creating a superintendent of employment. The motion carried, 8 to 6. The council then adopted the ordinance by the same vote, yeas and nays being as follows:

For the ordinance—Councilors Appleton, Bagley, Chadwick, Gallagher, McMeniman, Moriarty, Queenan and Sadler. Against—Councilors Adams, Cameron, Chretien, Genest, McLaughlin and Stearns.

Councilor Adams moved that the mayor's nomination of Edward Murphy for superintendent of charities be taken from the table, but President Bagley would not entertain it, because of the illness and absence of Councilor McLaughlin.

The following were drawn as jurors for the April sitting of the superior court: Andrew D. Barrett, 77 Mt. Vernon street, merchant.

Albert E. O'Brien, 241 Clark road, dealer.

Willie Rousseau, 14 Spalding street, dealer.

James S. McNabb, 105 Pleasant street, laundryman.

George E. Holmes, 17 Shaffer street, clerk.

Eugene I. Brerley, 74 South Loring street, painter.

John J. Foye, 439 Pine street, dealer.

Daniel P. O'Neil, 74 West street, manufacturer.

William S. Howles, 244 West Sixth street, operative.

John J. Tully, 533 Lawrence street, clerk.

Eugene F. Crans, 517 Westford street, real estate.

Charles P. Harrington, 474 Gorham street, real estate.

C. O. Leadbetter, 25 Rutland street, deputy superintendent.

Michael J. Quinn, 11 Eighth street, electrician.

Wilfred S. Achin, 42 Mt. Vernon st., chauffeur.

Joseph H. Leaman, Ames ave., clerk.

Clayton Gendreau, Circuit ave., tanner.

William Killings, 13 Westford street, second hand.

Adjourned at 11:45 o'clock to meet on the night of March 30.

A schedule of the budget, giving the original estimates as presented by department heads, the mayor's recommendations, those of the budget and audit commission and the figures set by the city council, is printed herewith.

Disorders in Naples Strike

ROME, March 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Disorders occurred today in Naples in connection with the strike of longshoremen. There is considerable unrest at Genoa, but rain which fell there drove threatening street crowds indoors. Dockworkers are also striking at Ancon, Bari and Brindisi. The government is endeavoring to effect a settlement.

WORCESTER MAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

NEW YORK, March 21.—After two postponements granted to permit attorneys for the defense to obtain records from an insane asylum in Upsala, Sweden, the trial of Alrie Westling, ex-security salesman of Worcester, Mass., charged with the murder of Carl Moller, aged jeweler, last December, began yesterday in Bronx supreme court.

The prisoner's mother and a number of residents of Worcester were included in the large crowd that filled the courtroom.

The prosecution will attempt to prove that he inherited insanity and plan to introduce Swedish records showing that his uncle, Erik Pierson, on the maternal side, was confined in the institution for a while for homicidal mania.

The prosecution will attempt to prove through the jeweler's widow, that Westling shot and killed her husband after an unsuccessful effort to rob him of more than $3000 worth of diamonds, which were being displayed to the accused in their store in the Bronx. Mrs. Moller also was shot in the attempted robbery.

Counsel for the defense announced the chief witness in the attempt to prove Westling was insane would be Dr. George M. Kline of Worcester.

Dr. Gregory, head of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue and allied hospital, will testify for the prosecution.

His examination of the juror, Westling's attorney intimated his client would not take the stand during the trial.

question in "Do we want disarmament?" If we do want it, then it must be brought about by agreements under which others reduce their arms also. We cannot sacrifice the safety of America by quixotic disarmament ourselves alone.

"In consequence, the administration has negotiated a series of agreements which do eliminate the cause of friction with our neighbors which do place us in position to reduce our naval strength in common with others and to maintain a complete defense of the American people in any event that may come to us, and, above all, we start the train of forces of good will, which are the foundation of peace."

First Step in Moral Reconstruction

"To me this is the first effective step in the moral reconstruction of the world. It is a real response to a world prayer for substitution of measures of good will for measures of force."

"Looking at the results solely from our American point of view, we can content ourselves in great accomplishments. The jeopardy of war has been most assuredly driven beyond our horizon. Naval rivalry with England has been stopped, with all the implications which must follow from the rivalry."

Alliance Abolished

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance has been abolished. The points of friction between ourselves and England have been settled. The major differences between China and Japan have been adjusted. The tide of foreign aggression on the frontiers of China has been turned back. The open door has been made effective. The world could not go on in rivalries in implements to kill, rivalries that were based on growing political irritations, without entering upon the job of killing."

"This is the first precise and substantial contribution in history to the problem of disarmament. But it is more in that it provides an agreed ratio of strength. This ratio has been settled on foundations that protect the sensibilities and interests and enlist the good will of the great powers."

obtaining beer." Mr. MacBrayne denied that he had been a party to any such arrangements.

When Capt. MacBrayne said that he would name some councilor who had offered to vote for him if he would protect friends of theirs in the liquor business, Councilor Sadler said: "Name them now; I'd like to know who they are."

The acting superintendent declined, however, but did add that when a local dealer said that he was in favor of his candidacy, providing that he would not appoint Patrolman Clyde Aldrich to the liquor squad, he went back to the police station and appointed Officer Aldrich.

Constipation results from the inability of the intestines to eliminate waste matter. Harsh cathartics and drugs of metallic origin force action, but they do not correct the cause of constipation.

Early settlers treated constipation with natural laxatives. An extract was made from herbs, roots, barks, and leaves with laxative qualities. Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative, is a compound of extracts from natural plants—a pure, mild, pleasant and effective old-fashioned, home-made laxative that for 71 years has been a favorite. Its regular use relieves constipation and fortifies the body against more serious illnesses. You are safe with Dr. True's Elixir. 40c—60c—$1.20. Adv.

"That was my answer to him," said Mr. MacBrayne.

President Bagley called the council to order at 10:45 o'clock, with Councilor McMahon absent.

Capt. W. G. MacBrayne appeared before the council.

Councilor Sadler asked him if he approved of an editorial that appeared in last Sunday's News.

Mr. MacBrayne said he came before the council as acting superintendent of police and was willing to answer any questions regarding the department, but if the council desired any information relative to the Sunday News, he would have to go to see the editor.

"Who is the editor?" asked Councilor Sadler.

"Capt. MacBrayne," replied the acting superintendent.

"Then let me ask you as editor of that paper, if you approve of the editorial," said Councilor Sadler.

"I will have to decline to speak about anything that appeared in the Sunday News at this time," replied the acting superintendent.

"Let me say to you that I want you to go out and do your duty," said Councilor Sadler, "and I speak as chairman of the committee on public order."

"That is just what I am doing," replied Mr. MacBrayne, "with no special favors for the friends of any member of this council."

"I will say now, though," continued Mr. MacBrayne, "several councilors promised to vote for me as superintendent of police if I would protect their friends."

"I suppose that remark is aimed at me," broke in Councilor Queenan.

"No, it was not," replied Capt. MacBrayne.

"We did have several little talks on the matter of protection, didn't we?" asked the councilor from ward 2.

"Yes, we did," said Mr. MacBrayne, "but those were just friendly conversations and didn't amount to anything. The names of some members of this council, however, will be given by me."

"I got ready to say it, but it won't be in a council meeting; it probably will be before the grand jury."

Councilor Sadler asked Mr. MacBrayne if he recalled a conference held at a house in Belvidere, at which two councilors were present and two or three others.

The acting superintendent said that he remembered that he received a telephone call one day to call at a home in Belvidere and that he went there and found a well known citizen, "who is opposed to the present mayor," a liquor dealer and two councilors.

"Didn't you call up that house and ask if it would be all right for you to come over?" asked Councilor Queenan.

"I had no such arrangements made,"

replied the acting superintendent.

"I will have to ask Councilor McMeniman to tell what he knows about it," said Mr. Queenan.

Councilor McMeniman said there had been some talk of such a trip, but he didn't remember whether or not the destination had been named.

Councilor Sadler questioned Captain MacBrayne as to the employment of men to guard the department for special police work.

The acting superintendent read letters from the civil service commission, showing authorization to employ such men for emergency work.

Councilor McLaughlin questioned further regarding a previous statement of the acting superintendent that he is limited to 135 regular men by civil service law.

Mr. MacBrayne said that since the last meeting of the council he had learned that he is not limited as to the number of men on the regular force.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem The Return

I've rested and frivoleed and frolicked
In Dixie-land's sunniest clime
I've feasted and gambled and rollicked
And had a most marvelous time
But now that the season is finished
And people are ceasing to roam,
The idlers are greatly diminished—
And I'm going home.

There may be some folks who are fretting
Because they're called back to the grind,
Who waste many moments regretting
The playground they're leaving behind,
For some people groan at endeavor
And hate it with hatred profound
And wish they could stay on forever
Just loafing around.

But when I know duty is calling
And beckoning me to my job,
To join in the labor enthralling
That keeps life interesting and throbbing,
Do I envy those who are staying—
The idle, improvident few,
Who keep right on cheerfully playing?
You said it, I do!

(Copyright, 1922, The Lowell Sun)

"Someone called me up; I did not call," said Mr. MacBrayne.

"Didn't I answer the phone when you called?" asked Councilor Queenan.

"Not that I remember," replied Capt. MacBrayne.

"There was a lot of liquor there; isn't that so?" asked the councilor.

"Well, it was most all gone when I got there," said the acting superintendent.

"That is not so," said Councilor Queenan. "It hadn't been touched before you came."

"Well, I don't wish to discuss the matter any further," said Mr. MacBrayne.

"Do you remember any arrangements, made with your approval, that six councilors should make a trip to Lawrence, get some beer there and then come back and elect you superintendent of police?" asked Councilor Queenan.

"I had no such arrangements made,"

replied the acting superintendent.

"I will have to ask Councilor McMeniman to tell what he knows about it," said Mr. Queenan.

Councilor McMeniman said there had been some talk of such a trip, but he didn't remember whether or not the destination had been named.

Man Fatally Shot by Gunmen in Belfast

BELFAST, March 21.—(By the Associated Press)—James Magee was shot by gunmen in Hardinge street last night. Military forces were sent to the scene, but met with a fusillade of revolver shots under cover of which the assassins escaped. Magee died this morning. Many carters failed to report for work today in protest against the lack of protection from snipers, and as the day advanced their strike became practically complete. The city's traffic resembled that of the usual Sunday, only tram cars and bread vans being operated.

Worcester Girl Declares Miss Clark Took Poison After Announcing Engagement

BOSTON, March 21.—Miss Pauline Virginia Clark, beautiful divorcee, had gaily announced her engagement to Bayard Wharton, Harvard athlete and son of Henry Wharton, Philadelphia banker, last night before she ended her life by poison in her apartment early last Thursday morning. This statement was made last night by Miss Ona M. Cossick of Worcester, a guest at the party.

Miss Cossick asserted that the young woman had promised her intended husband that she would see no more of the moody young Norwegian technology student, Otto Heider Lorenson of Christiana, who took his own life Sunday by poison from the same vial that he had admitted he had given her to use.

A wedding ring and a picture of a woman and a fair-haired boy bearing strong resemblance to Larsen were found among the dead student's effects, police said last night. This was taken by them to be Wharton's, and a possible explanation of the incoherent sentence in his letter to the medical examiner: "I know him able and myself unable to marry Miss Clark."

Miss Cossick, interviewed by a reporter in her Worcester home, said that Miss Clark announced that the wedding would take place last Saturday.

"The announcement," she said, "was somewhat of a surprise. Wharton smiled as if embarrassed, but offered no comment. Larsen said nothing. Nothing was said by anyone as to any possible objections on the part of Wharton's family."

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The post-office appropriation bill, carrying $23,000,000, was passed last night by the senate after a heated fight. The measure carries $23,000,000 more than was passed by the house, $20,000,000 of the increase going for federal highway aid.

The bill also carries provisions for restoring to service the New York pneumatic mail tubes and for continuing the New York to San Francisco air mail service. The vote on the tube amendment was 36 to 19, and came after a bitter attack on the proposition by several democrats. The $20,000,000 was accepted by the senate without debate and without a roll call.

A light controversy around post-office appointments, originating early in discussion of the bill, resulted just before adjournment of the senate in the introduction by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, of a resolution calling on the president to supply the senate with the number of post-office positions he has issued reinforcing post-offices from civil service classification. The resolution went over under the rules.

The fight which culminated in the Harrison resolution was precipitated by an amendment increasing the number of postal inspectors from 120 to 150, a move which Mr. Harrison charged was to make more places for republicans.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, in attacking the New York tube amendment, said that the New York tubes were restored, then Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Boston would seek to push the tunnel's body under the tent and get those systems restored. Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, replied that he was unacquainted with the questions in those cities, but regarded the use of tubes as "a step in human progress and he did not think that the senate should stand in the way."

From the subject of claims against the government the debate went into the filling of vacancies in postmaster-ships and here politics again was charged.

Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, broke into the discussion to reply to statements by Mr. Harrison that the administration wanted to use the new inspectors to find ways of rooting democrats out of jobs.

"If the president listened to me about that," said the New Hampshire senator, "he would have written one executive order taking out from civil service every job put under it by Woodrow Wilson. The democrats are yapping because they fear some of their office-holders are going to lose. I'm in favor of every administration being surrounded by its friends and we have examples now of democrats, left in berths, throwing monkey wrenches into machinery and handicapping the service."

Throughout all this time prominent physicians of New England have been prescribing Sanatol for impoverished blood, or anemia, and for all that causes or is caused by poor blood, such as boils and other painful or disfiguring sores, indigestion and most forms of stomach trouble, constipation, torpid liver, kidney affections, and general debility.

Sanatol is a reconstructive tonic. It does not FORCE the bowels to act, but it stimulates and so strengthens the blood and all the organs that they, after short treatment, act naturally, vigorously and pleasantly.

A good description of what Sanatol will do is found in the following letter, written by Mrs. G. C. Bateson, who has spent all her life in Pawtucket, R. I. She resides at 114 Mineral Springs Ave.

"I had been slowly failing for two years. The doctor said it was general debility. I was weak, depressed and terribly nervous. The troubles that led up to this condition were indigestion and constipation resulting in poor blood, hemorrhoids, gas in stomach, backache, headaches and dizziness. I was close to a complete breakdown. The medicines I took, including cathartics, when I was just about ready to give up. Druggist Gill suggested that I try Sanatol. He praised it very highly and said if I was not perfectly satisfied he would return my money."

"The result of two bottles of Sanatol was astonishing. To put it in a few words, they practically made me well. All my organs acted right, my aches and pains left me, my complexion improved and I am convinced that Sanatol is the Sanatol Tonic is a truly wonderful remedy."

Bids for 60 cords of cleft wood for outdoor fuel were opened at the office of the purchasing agent at city hall at 11 o'clock this morning as follows: John Brady, $2.70 a cord; Paul Vigeant, $3; Joseph Leclair, $10 and Amasa Brown, $2.50.

Bids were also opened by the purchasing agent this morning for 100 tons of bituminous coal for the water department, as follows: John Brady, $7.80 a ton; E. A. Wilson Co., $8.14 a gross ton and D. T. Sullivan, $8.22 a gross ton.

Two bids were also received at the same office for a one-model 167 watt-meter for the central station. The bids were as follows: J. H. England Electrical & Supply Corp., $43.00; C. H. May Co., $68.75 less 10 per cent.

National Guard Force on Duty in R. I. Strike Zone Further Reduced

Gov. San Souci Orders Three Coast Artillery Companies Sent Home

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 21.—National guard troops on duty in the textile mill strike areas in Rhode Island, were further reduced today, when Gov. San Souci ordered three of the coast artillery companies on duty in Pawtucket sent home.

The units dismissed were from Providence, Westerly and East Greenwich. There are left in Pawtucket one Worcester coast artillery company and details from two Providence companies, a total of about 150 men.

Blackstone valley strikers today continued their mass picketing at several mills and were stopped by the authorities only at the Jencks Spinning Co. plant, Pawtucket. Mills and a blackberry in Lonsdale village were heavily picketed on reports that attempts would be made to open them, but none materialized.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 21.—Mayor Robert E. Kenyon, testifying yesterday at the inquest into the killing of Jose Assuncao, Portuguese national, who was killed on Feb. 21 in a riot near the plant of the Jencks Spinning Co., asserted that he had no gun and did not fire a shot.

"When I heard the shooting and saw men falling I held up my right hand and cried, 'For God's sake, stop shooting! You are killing them,' " the mayor testified.

He said that some time before the riot he addressed the crowd in his capacity as mayor, declaring the gathering to be a "riotous and disorderly assembly", and commanding them "to return to their homes at once under penalty of the law or suffer the consequences."

He declared that the temper of the crowd was very ugly and they tried by every means in their power to overcome the police forces. He testified that the crowd rushed the police and that he saw some of the police on the ground.

He did not see any other course that the police might have pursued except to shoot, he said.

GOV. COX AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Governor Cox of Massachusetts called at the White House today to call on his respects to President Harding.

Doctors Disagree

Washington died from a complication of diseases which seem to have ended in a fatal case of pneumonia. Good birth and a clean and vigorous outdoor life had made a fine specimen of manhood of "the Father of our Country." Physicians have long discussed the true cause of Washington's death.

Seneca and a few other cathartics have been used since ancient times. But during the earlier years of American history the doctors were in the habit of opening a vein and letting out blood in the treatment of fevers and every ill that led to fevers, such as indigestion, constipation, colic, nervousness, and, in fact, most of the ills of man. As it is known that Washington was freely bled by the doctors, there are many physicians who believe that he might have lived many years longer if he had received different treatment.

It is true that bleeding will quickly reduce a fever, but so will a strong cathartic. In fact, when the custom of bleeding passed, "the cathartic habit" rapidly took its place. Today the general use of powerful cathartics is doing many times more harm than bleeding ever did.

Strangely enough, there always have been pure and mild medicines that made the use of bleeding or cathartics almost unnecessary.

For example, consider Sanatol. It is a hundred years since Doctor Osgood of Boston commenced to give it to his patients. Doctor Osgood married into the Wilson family of druggists who compounded the Sanatol for him, and, as practically one family has been making it for a hundred years.

Throughout all this time prominent physicians of New England have been prescribing Sanatol for impoverished blood, or anemia, and for all that causes or is caused by poor blood, such as boils and other painful or disfiguring sores, indigestion and most forms of stomach trouble, constipation, torpid liver, kidney affections, and general debility.

Mr. Chamberlain added that the government intended to put a motion clearly raising the question as to whether it possessed the confidence of the house. SEEKS TO RECOVER ON HORSE RACING PLAY

Court action has been started by Thomas H. Seaton against Charles E. Bunker and William J. Griffin, known by the firm name of Bunker & Griffin, for the recovery of $300, with treble damages, alleged to have been lost Sept. 1 of last year as the result of a horse-racing proposition in which the plaintiff alleges to have lost $300 to the defendants.

Recently a writ was filed in district court clerk's office, said writ to be returnable in district court the third Saturday of March. The action is one of tort or contract. The writ was served by Constable Thomas F. O'Connor, and is from the law offices of McVey, McVey and Reder.

The plaintiff's declaration says that on or about the first day of September, 1921, the said plaintiff played at horse-racing in Lowell and lost by said playing at horse-racing, to the defendant, the sum of $300 and the plaintiff says the said defendant owes him and he is entitled to sue for and recover treble the value of said money lost as aforesaid, the sum of $900.

Tannery Closed

A result none of the men reported for work this morning. As far as could be learned, no attempt to operate the plant was made this morning or this afternoon.

The strike affects about 300 men, or about 25 per cent. of the full time working force. The men feel that a ten per cent. reduction on top of another big reduction which went into effect in the early part of the year, is more than they can stand and they have received the sanction of the national organization to declare a strike.

The visiting officials of the national organization conferred a couple of hours with the strike committee this morning and prepared plans for the morning and prepared plans for the afternoon. The plan was also for the tie of the strikers will be in an attempt to picket the plant in case an attempt should be made to operate with strike-breakers. At the close of the conference it was announced that the strike committee will meet every morning at 10 o'clock and that every morning the strikers will be held every afternoon at 2 o'clock. The officers of the national body were not prepared this morning to issue any statement concerning the strike and said that would come later on.

"Are you going to attempt to run the plant?" he was asked.

"We are running. The power is running and we have some help at work," was the answer.

LYNN, March 21.—A four story wooden building on Union street, occupied by the J. M. Harriman Drug Co., and William McParsons, a jeweler, was badly damaged by fire early today. A patrolman discovered the blaze in the basement. The loss was estimated at $5000.

125 Warships in San Diego Harbor

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—One hundred and twenty-five warships and auxiliaries, said to be the largest number ever at an American port in peace time, were in San Diego harbor today. The armada comprises virtually three-fourths of the ships attached to the Pacific fleet and, if steaming in column formation, would make a line 10 miles long, officers said. There are 93 destroyers in this number.

WARSAW, March 21.—National censorship of motion pictures has been established in Poland. It is hoped in this way to check the crime wave which has kept the police busy for some time. Motion picture houses of the lower class were flooded with the cheapest kind of old fashioned American "wild west" films and the police say the youths of the land have been emulating the "bad men" of the screen.

What Wincarnis did for a Wretchedly Nervous Woman

Striking Case of Prompt Improvement After Serious Nervous Break-down

Messrs. Edward Leavere, Inc., 400 West 23d St., New York City

Gentlemen: A feeling of everlasting gratitude impels me to tell you about the truly remarkable effect of Wincarnis in my case. I am sending you this letter in the hope that you will find some way to let others suffering as I did, know how they can regain health and strength. If you care to do so, you are at liberty to publish this letter for it may save some one from further agony of body and mind.

Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least little thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shrink from terror. I finally became so depressed, ashamed and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually disgusted of myself. I lost a great deal of weight and simply could not get any restful sleep.

I began taking Wincarnis and after a very short time there was a marked improvement in my whole condition was nothing less than startling. Everyone commented on the wonderful improvement of my condition. Today I am completely restored to health and never feel the slightest trace of nervousness. My appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly every night, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or broken-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Wincarnis is.

Respectfully yours, (Signed) Mrs. May Baltusis.

ALL BIDS FOR U. S. FLEET ARE REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Chairman Lasker announced yesterday that the shipping board had rejected all bids for its big fleet of cargo vessels, opened on March 14.

For the most part, Mr. Lasker considers the bids "facetious." The bids opened, he said, cover offers on only about 100 ships. The entire fleet was advertised for sale, and the board was prepared to entertain a serious offer if one was received.

"The bids indicate," said Mr. Lasker, "that there is no present market in the United States for ocean-going tonnage. From all I can gather I doubt that as much as $15,000,000 is available in this country today for investment in ocean tonnage. Our estimates indicate that as much as $5,000,000 pounds sterling are available for this purpose in Great Britain."

"My own judgment is that unless congress establishes a definite policy for extending aid to the American merchant marine there will be no market for the government's big cargo fleet."

It was understood from the outset that the shipping board did not seriously expect a good offer for its fleet or any considerable proportion of it when bids were called for. Shipping board officials, however, did desire to definitely establish the fact that no present market exists for ocean tonnage.

The result of the opening of bids will be placed before the committee of congress in the hearings on the ship subsidy bill, which will begin Tuesday of next week.

Mr. Lasker announced yesterday the appointment of a committee consisting of Commissioner O'Connor and Vice President Small, Love and Frey of the Emergency Fleet corporation with power to take over and operate for the fleet corporation all piers owned or controlled by the shipping board in and around New York. The plan is to take over the Munson and Cosmopolitan line piers.

BOSTON, March 21.—Gen. Clarence R. Edwards yesterday issued an appeal for 20,000 ex-service men in and around Boston, who are unemployed and in want.

The statement said in part: In and around Boston there are 20,000 ex-service men willing to do anything that is honorable at any living wage to keep themselves and their families from real want. Personal investigation and knowledge of hundreds of typical cases have convinced me that my apprehension for their welfare is well founded.

It has been demonstrated in this last month under the severest of conditions that these men are anxious to get work and will well perform any work that may be given them. I have always paid tribute to the great sustaining power of New England behind the troops on the fighting line. It was the controlling power that made them "carry on" when the limit of blood and sinew had been reached. I am

TYRONE, Pa., March 21.—There will be no general revolution in India, though sporadic trouble may continue, according to an opinion expressed by Bishop E. Lester Smith, missionary to India from the Methodist Episcopal church, in an address here before the Central Pennsylvania annual conference of that denomination. Bishop Smith also voiced "real admiration for the sincerity" of Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist agitator. "As a man, even though I cannot approve of his actions and methods,"

"I believe that India will accept the reforms offered by England," said the speaker "and will make tremendously rapid progress toward real self-government. Political unity in India today is only possible under the British flag. Over 700 native states, over 150 languages, an infinite variety of caste distinctions and all kinds of religious views cannot be brought into harmony under any Indian authority at present. If anarchy is to be avoided, English control must be continued until a greater measure of fusion of Indian nationalities has been secured."

Bishop Smith outlined the following reasons for believing that a general revolution is not impending.

"I base my judgment first upon the way I have been treated. I have experienced no opposition of a discourteous sort. Thefts by violence are more common in America than in India.

"Gandhi is, I believe, fully committed to maintaining the non-violent character of his movement, and his influence in India is simply beyond computation. It is doubtful whether the present union of 70,000,000 Mohammedans and 225,000,000 Hindus, bitter hereditary enemies, can be maintained. The Mohals in Malabar are slaying Hindus alive as reprisals for aid given to British forces.

The British government has provided a sincere and generous form of home rule. The legislative councils which have been organized under this plan conducted their business with promise of helpful co-operation. I believe that a substantial proportion of Indian thought is moderate.

"The native states, which cover more than one-third of India, are almost universally in favor of the status quo."

In conclusion Bishop Smith said, "The very besting of Indian aspiration and the development of Indian life was born in Christian teaching and education."

MRS. KENNARD FILES SUIT FOR $150,000

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 21.—Mrs. Ethel Overholt Kennard of Greenland yesterday brought suit for $150,000 for alienation of affections of her husband, Capt. Reginald T. Kennard, against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Wilhelmina Kennard, and her brother-in-law, Victor P. Kennard, ex-Harvard football player. The suit is returnable at the April term of the superior court to be held at Exeter.

The suit filed yesterday is a sequel to a sensational suit last December in the Rockingham superior court in which Mrs. Kennard sued her husband for separate maintenance. At that time the evidence was of such a character that Presiding Justice W. H. Sawyer transferred the case from open court to his private chambers in the Rockingham court house. It is said that the allegations filed yesterday are based entirely on evidence presented at the hearing last fall. At that time Justice Sawyer took the case under advisement and as yet no decision has been made known.

It is claimed that Capt. Kennard did not live with his wife upon his return from France in the world war, because of a letter written him by his brother, Victor Kennard, which, Mrs. Kennard charges, made an impression on her husband. The Kennards, it is said, lived in New York city until their purchase of the Marsh farm in Greenland.

Mrs. Kennard in her allegations charges that Mrs. Wilhelmina Kennard and her son, Victor Kennard, conspired to separate Capt. Reginald Kennard from her while he was in France. The younger Mrs. Kennard was said to be at Long Island, N. Y., at the time.

School Head Campaigns To Wipe Out Illiteracy

MRS. JENNIE ERICKSON DODGE.

(By N.E.A. Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 21.—Just now Mrs. Jennie Erickson Dodge, school superintendent for Polaski county, is conducting a campaign to wipe out illiteracy in her neck of the woods. Since January 1 she has organized 50 schools for adults and secured an enrollment that has passed the 1000 mark.

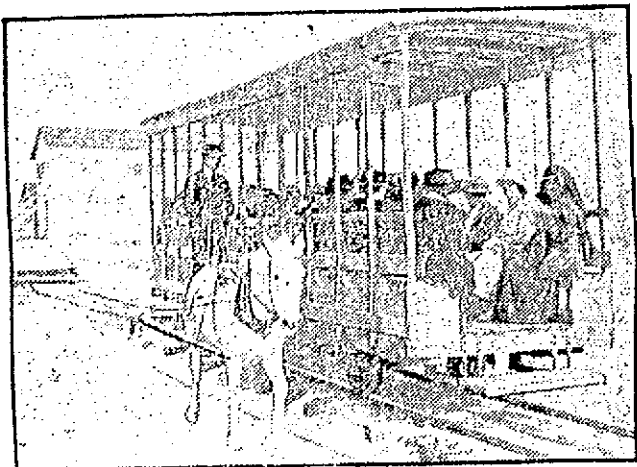

And this is only a small part of the work and general interest she has been concerned in in Polaski county. As school official she draws $1000 a year, $100 more than the state superintendent of education and as much as the governor of the state.

She is supplied with an auto for visits to rural schools.

Recently she was county probation officer and it was largely through her efforts that the mothers' pension act was passed in Arkansas.

The building and maintenance of the Arkansas Reformatory for Women and Girls are credited to her efforts. She made a personal trip to Washington where she enlisted the support of President Wilson and secured an appropriation of $50,000 needed for this work.

Mrs. Dodge began her career as a school teacher with three children to support.

Sleeves go right, "broken set well" and seams need no "taking in" or "letting out" when the material is cut right in the first place.

Until now you couldn't be sure that you were cutting your dress right, for old style patterns varied more or less. But McCall's improved pattern is "printed" so that it cannot charge a fraction of an inch.

Now you can cut the most expensive material and know that the dress will go together right, because you are practically cutting by the designer's original pattern which is called the Master Pattern.

This means a wonderful new simplicity in dressmaking—and a more successful effect in dresses.

Troops Join With Deputy Sheriffs to Break up Pawtucket Parade

PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 21.—In an effort to test Sheriff Jonathan Andrews' order against mass picketing over 100 strikers assembled near the plant of the Jencks Spinning Co., today and proceeded to march in single file towards the mill gate. The deputy sheriffs quickly stopped the parade, informed the leaders that such a gathering was a violation of the sheriff's order and with the assistance of the militia on duty drove the crowd some distance from the mill. Afterwards about 25 strikers were allowed to do picket duty near the mill gates.

Action Follows Announcement of Firm That U. S. Would Get Preference

DETROIT, March 21.—Circuit court judges here were called into conference today to discuss the efforts of aliens to obtain first citizenship papers, following announcement by several industrial firms that American citizens, particularly former service men, would be given preference in employment. The matter also was laid before naturalization officials of the federal court.

Circuit court judges indicated that they regarded the situation as serious and Judge John Faust of the principal court, who also is chairman of the American Legion employment committee, characterized it as a disgraceful prostitution of American citizenship.

It is estimated that there are 30,000 alien factory employees in Detroit and that 20,000 former soldiers are out of work here.

MISS SPRING IS WEARING WRAPS

Today, the first day of spring, began with a rather threatening aspect during the early morning hours, and early afternoon gave very little promise of a clear sky, although the weather man prophesied that such would be the case. The temperature combined with the

damp air, was hardly all that could be desired, but the streets and sidewalks began to dry up before noon, granting a little solace to those who awaited the coming of the warm equinox at 12 o'clock this morning with the hope that the advent of spring would be a real, rather than a mathematical event.

The promise of colder weather tonight, even though qualified by the prediction of a fair day tomorrow, must be borne a little longer.

HAVERTHILL, March 21.—Mrs. Helen Callahan, aged 59; Oreste Tehafra, in bed suffering with rheumatism, and four small children, the oldest 7 and the youngest a baby less than a year old, were rescued early today in a fire that destroyed two townships in a 12-family apartment house on Harrison street, this city.

The fire had gained great headway when discovered by patrolmen. The children were carried out by one of the patrolmen. Mrs. Callahan was found unconscious on the floor, her hair and clothing on fire, and was carried down one flight of stairs to the street. Tehafra was taken from the building by two firemen. The cause of the fire is unknown. Damage is estimated at $5000.

DEFENSE RESTS IN THE WARNER-FULLER CASE

TAUNTON, March 21.—The defense rested late this forenoon in the $100,000 slander suit which Joseph E. Warner, former speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, has brought against Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller.

Warner, called by the defense as its last witness, denied that he had received money as counsel in a case before the industrial accident board. Letters were introduced in an attempt to show that Harold F. Hatheway, who the defense contends was Warner's law partner, had applied for a place as a member of the board for that case.

Carl Magee, a reporter for the Salem Evening News, testified as to the questions which Fuller asked Warner at a political rally at Salem in September, 1929. It was in connection with the campaign of Fuller and Warner for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor that year that the alleged slander was committed. The witness said that Warner did not answer specifically any of Fuller's questions, but that he made a general denial in which he declared that he had had nothing to do with Hatheway's appearance before legislative committees.

The defense closed without calling for testimony by Hatheway, who had been summoned as a witness.

RESERVES DECISION ON THEATRE FIRE

NEW HAVEN, March 21.—Judge Hoyt reserved decision until March 27 at the conclusion of the trial in City court yesterday of Lawrence W. Carroll, former manager of the Rhode theatre here, who is charged with manslaughter. Carroll pleaded not guilty to the charge, which was based on the death of one of the 10 persons who succumbed to burns received in the theatre fire last November.

City Attorney Whitaker, in his closing argument, said that Carroll, as manager of the theatre, was responsible for the hanging of inflammable materials on the stage and the burning of incense for the production of a film play. The city attorney said the conditions on the stage started the fire and caused the quick spread of the flames and loss of life. He declared the manager was not responsible for the building being unsafe.

Sweeps Through Matches in Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournaments at Boston

BOSTON, March 21.—Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory, opening another tennis season today, swept through matches in both the singles and doubles tournaments for national indoor championships toward new titles. As playing through champions, she set out for her first indoor singles title by a first round victory over Miss Rosemond Newton of this city, 6-2, 6-2.

In doubles, paired with Mrs. L. G. Morris, also of New York, she advanced over the local combination of Miss Marian Morris and Miss Margaret Loughton, 6-0, 6-1.

With the beginning of play tomorrow in the national mixed doubles championships, also on the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club, Mrs. Mallory will join again with W. T. Tilden, 2d, as playing-through titlists. They were among the six teams seeded into the draw for that event today, with indications that in all three title competitions Mrs. Mallory would be a finalist.

The former Norse girl showed today the sweeping strokes of other successful seasons, with no sign of let-down in her game.

CUNNINGHAM IN FEAR OF POACHERS

DEEDHAM, March 21.—Further testimony to show that Caleb Cunningham feared poachers on his East Milton estate would kill him, was introduced today at the 68-year-old man's trial for the murder of John Johnson of West Quincy in January, 1921.

Robert C. Ware of Quincy, a nephew of Cunningham, said his uncle had told him he had been shot at and that he expected a poacher's bullet would reach him some day.

Peter Brownson, a Milton farmer, testified as to the shooting of Cunningham's uncle by poachers 32 years ago and that Cunningham had spoken of their depredations as a source of trouble in his day also.

Prominent Los Angeles Minister to Be Questioned in Case of Mrs. Obenchain

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 21.—The district attorney's office has begun an investigation of the jury disagreement in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of her sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy.

Three of the jurors had reported that three others, who had voted for acquittal while nine favored conviction, had refused to listen to any arguments in the jury room.

In this connection, it was announced that a prominent Los Angeles minister would be summoned to the district attorney's office today to tell what he might know of a report that he had had conversation with one of the women on the jury and had offered prayers for her guidance.

The same woman was said to have met and talked with Ralph H. Obenchain, former husband and present counsel for the defendant, in the course of the trial.

It was further reported that the same woman had expressed the belief that "Burch was guilty but Mrs. Obenchain was not."

Whether the second trials of Mrs. Obenchain and Arthur C. Burch, who was charged with the murder of Kennedy, would be held jointly or separately was expected to be decided in the superior court here today.

G. O. P. LEADER'S VIEWS ON MAINE ELECTION

WASHINGTON, March 21.—John T. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee today issued the following statement relative to the special congressional election held yesterday in the Third Maine district.

"The republican candidate, John E. Nelson, won the special congressional election held in the Third district of Maine, Monday, by about 7000 majority. From returns at hand, Mr. Nelson received 62 per cent of the total vote polled. In 1916 the republican candidate received 54 per cent of the total vote; in 1918, 58 per cent, and in 1920, 66 per cent.

"The issue in this election was one year of republican administration and the accomplishments of the present republican congress, as compared with the record of eight years of democratic rule. The result leaves no doubt as to the preference of the people."

Cuts Effective on March 27

Continued Improved business conditions will enable us to resume operations in the near future.

A "reduction and readjustment in the wages of the employees" of the Everett mills was announced today, effective March 27. The amount of the cut was not made known, the notice stating that a new schedule of rates will be worked out and rates will be furnished by the overseers as soon as they have the new schedules.

The mills, it was announced, will run five days the week ending April 1, an increase of one day over the present schedule, and thereafter will operate on full time. The mill employs about 1200 hands and manufactures gingham, shirting, denim, etc.

The Pacific mill, a cotton and worsted plant, employing 10,000 persons normally, today announced a wage reduction of approximately 20 per cent. The Pacific cut, effective March 27, is the first in this big textile center since the movement of wage revision began this year. It is one of the few mills in Massachusetts mills to date.

Declares Cut Necessary The notice posted in the Pacific mills stated that the wage cut had become necessary because business had steadily been falling off since last November, and "we have been unable to continue full time operations and have been running on a four day schedule for several weeks. Even at this rate, some of our departments are accumulating pools at high costs."

Continuing the notice reads: "With the loss of striking business we have already named prices on all our lines which show us a heavy loss based on the present cost of cotton and wool. It is a well known fact that the purchasing power of the country at large, particularly outside of the industrial centers, has been greatly curtailed during the past year. The farmers of the country have generally been receiving less than pre-war prices for their products and the great rank and file of professional men and clerks have no greater purchasing power than before the war. This means that the mills which are producing some of the necessities of life must make goods at a price which can be paid by our customers. If we sell our goods at cost today our prices are nearly twice as high as the pre-war levels.

120 P. C. Above 1915 Wage Scale "It is not generally known that the wages paid our employees in Lawrence are 120 per cent above the wage scale of 1915, and after the reduction, the average wages will still be at least 75 per cent above the pre-war level.

"We intend to start our mills on full time when the reduction takes effect, which will mean that the pay envelopes will be larger than our employees have been receiving during the past few weeks. With the reduced cost which will result we feel justified in accumulating goods which we cannot sell at the present time.

Cut Effective March 27 "For many years the employees of the Pacific mills have been receiving wages as high and in most cases higher than the employees of other mills on similar classes of work and we fully hope and expect to continue this policy, but the country at large expects and demands a further reduction in the wages of the industrial workers of the east and good business and prosperity for all cannot come until this adjustment has been made. This reduction will take effect March 27, 1932."

—almost every department and Jew-

Such articles would not be manuwere no market for them. There is a big market for them. You may see a hip pocket in almost any New York restaurant.

And in the windows of Broadway

see little cubes with dots on them,
the number of dots on any two oppo-

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK
When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance.
Your hair is your charm. It makes or unmasks the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundredfold.
Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Vy-eth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell,
as it darkens so naturally and evenly.
You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy
Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and more about $2.
Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astounding.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated extract of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, with full directions, and get the exact thing else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne,

LOVELL OPERA HOUSE
Miss Marguerite Fields and her players scored another triumph last night in the opening production of "Slippy McGee," a dramatization by E. F. Stone of Marie Perle's story of the same name. As produced under the direction of Mr. Louis Alton, the drama of southern life absorbed the audience from the beginning in an interest that was sustained to the final curtain.
The cast of characters in order of their appearance follows:
Slippy McGee.....Nan Crawford
Betty Louisa.....Miss Virginia
Dr. Westmoreland.....Vincent Dennis
Mary Virginia Duxie.....Marguerite Fields
Lawrence Mayne.....Kathleen Fr. Jean de France.....Louis Alton
Mr. Cartwright.....Wm. Worwick
George Inglesby.....Seth Arnold
Howard Hunter.....Robert Fay
Slippy McGee.....Miss Virginia
Betty Louisa.....Miss Virginia
The first act takes place in Father Jean's garden. Mary Virginia is going north to Baltimore to take charge of the orphanage, and Betty Louisa, account of Betty Louisa's health, is likely to be absent for some time. Before she goes her ardent lover, Lawrence Mayne, promises to follow her, the kind office of Fr. Jean, to secure a private audience with her and tells her of his love. She, in turn, reveals her reciprocal affection and their love is consummated. A drama that has been taken and cared for by Fr.
Jean, and who is subsequently recognized as "Slippy McGee," a noted burglar, she comes to Mary Virginia's chambers and promises her that she will remain with the good priest and assist him in his pursuit of moths, his one absorbing hobby.
The second act takes place in the workshop. Betty Louisa and the good priest, Fr. Jean, tell her the cause of all the suffering undergone by the sisters. It appears that while in Baltimore, Betty Louisa had become enchanted of Hunter and, before finding out his true character, had written him several letters, the publication of which would injure the family name. The price of silence was the marriage of Mary Virginia to Inglesby. Mary Virginia has already broken her engagement to Lawrence Mayne and hardened herself for the ordeal. Slippy McGee enters and announces that he has overheard and variation between Inglesby and Hunter which has solved the problem and revealed the location of the all-important letters.
The third act takes place in Fr.
Jean's garden. Mary Virginia and Betty Louisa have been prevailed upon to attend a party given by the priest's mother, and the former is at once confronted by Inglesby, who demands an answer to his proposal of marriage before the evening is over.
In the meantime, Slippy McGee has reverted to his old character and, with the assistance of Fr. Jean, who asserts his authority by insisting on taking part in the work, opens the safe in Hunter's office and recovers
the letters. Returning to the garden, Mary Virginia is being given her chance to choose between the publication of the letters and her assent to Inglesby's proposal. At a dramatic moment, as Inglesby is forcing her for the letters, Slippy McGee, now returned to the character of John Plint, surreptitiously hands the letters to Betty Louisa, who thanks him for his bravery and for their return to them. Slippy is at once threatened with dire consequences, but he suddenly produces some documents he has taken from Hunter's safe, and addition to the letters and Inglesby is gawed and leaves the garden. There is a happy reconciliation between Mary Virginia and her lover and the curtain descends with Slippy presenting his burglar's kit to Fr. Jean as a gift to the church, asserting that ever after he is to be John Plint, with Slippy McGee dead forever.
The work of Miss Fields as Mary Virginia is of the usual splendid magnitude, and Harry Hollingsworth as Slippy McGee is excellent. Naturally Paula Alton as the humble, penetrating priest, Fr. Jean de France, who in a critical moment is willing to risk his all for his beloved friends, has a rare opportunity for demonstrating his ability and does so in a masterly manner. All the other members of the cast provide excellent support for the principals, and the comedy of Nan Crawford, Vincent Dennis and William Worwick, the masterly portrayal of Inglesby by the actor of Kalman Mattis, the villainy of Seth Arnold and Robert Fay and the talent of Florence Hull in the character of the juvenile role added immensely to the enjoyment of the program.

WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY CAR FARES TO BE CUT IN FOUR MASS. CITIES

Gordon L. Pickering, of this city was yesterday found not guilty of assault with intent to rape when he was tried before a superior criminal court jury in East Cambridge. The jury was out a little less than half an hour in making its finding.

Although the grand jury indicted Pickering on two separate counts it is probable he will not be brought to trial on the other count, which charged him with abuse of a female child under the age of 16 years. The case tried yesterday was the Anna Hebert case in which the cries of a young woman aroused the inhabitants of Clark road on the night of January 9, and led to Pickering's arrest a short while later. Pickering was brought in on two warrants several weeks ago. The first of these charged him with assault with intent to rape. The complaint was Anna Hebert and the alleged assault was said to have been committed on January 9 of this year.

The complaint in the second case charged him with abuse of a female child under the age of 16 years. The alleged assault was said to have been committed on Roslindale. Surprised on July 15, 1921.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Plans for the annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A., which is to be held some time early in April, were formed at the regular meeting of the board of governors which took place last night, with L. A. Olney in the chair. A nominating committee was named, as follows: Otto W. Butler, Charles E. Fleming and Herbert Harnes.

Activities during the last month were shown in the monthly reports, which, according to General Secretary H. E. Howe, demonstrated that the local association has assumed a position among the leading organizations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

A survey of the housing situation was recently made in Minneapolis by the mail carriers.

Providence was the first city in the United States to have open air schools.

The Salem, Brockton, Lawrence and Lynn districts of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, having made the best financial showing during the past three months, the trustees announce that, in accordance with their "service-at-cost plan," fare reductions, which will result in a yearly saving of $200,000 to the public, will go into effect Monday, April 2.

In the Lawrence district 17-ride tickets will be sold for 95 cents; in Lynn, 18 rides for $1, and in Salem 17 rides for $1. A 12-ride ticket will be issued for $1 to car riders in Methuen and outlying towns where the fare is 10 cents.

In Brockton the city zone ticket is to remain 17 rides for $1, and the 14-ride ticket for $1 in the suburbs will be replaced by a 15-ride ticket.

The trustees state that it will be impossible to consider fare reductions in other districts until business conditions there improve.

FIRST REPORTS ON Y. W. C. A. BUDGET

At a supper held at the Y.W.C.A. rooms last night, the first reports on the $15,000 budget campaign for the association showed that the sum of $1070.50 has been collected to date, and although the total did not fulfill the expectations of the solicitors one and all expressed confidence of ultimate success.

The first report was that of the women's division, amounting to $523. Next came the business women's division, with a report of $347.50. Mrs. Olney, chairman of the special gifts committee, announced a gift of $500, bringing the grand total for the evening to $1070.50.

The delicious supper which was provided was in charge of Mrs. Herbert Trull, assisted by Mrs. G. A. Taylor, Miss Gene Cameron and Miss Frances Trull, with several of the house girls serving as waitresses.

Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer had charge of the program, and cheering remarks were heard from the pastor of the Unitarian Congregational church, Dr. William R. Tutill. Dr. Tutill remarked that the workers seemed to need no incentive to good works. Miss Hobbs spoke of a visit to Lawrence where a $25,000 campaign has been successfully conducted, although the workers of that city had an advantage of a $10,000 donation for their International Institute. She expressed confidence that Lowell would succeed in its purpose, for she had never seen a better or more enthusiastic group of workers.

Beginning today a window of the Chaffoux company will be used to record the progress of the campaign and to stress the facts connected with the association in its work for women and girls. The next report will be made at a luncheon to be given next Wednesday at 12.30.

Miss Lillian H. Tutcher is England's first woman insurance broker.

WHAT THIS BUFFALO PHYSICIAN HAS DONE FOR HUMANITY

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This discovery corrects to disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.—Adv.

It is a common sight to see people, old and young, of both sexes, spit on the sidewalk.

It is not only an indecent habit that rather grates on the finer sensibilities of right-minded people but it is palpably a dangerous menace to the health of us all.

The germ of tuberculosis is present in millions in the spit of a consumptive. It is almost entirely through the spit of consumptives that the germ of this dread disease is communicated to others.

It is reasonable then to state that much "flu" and grippe could be prevented by public health officials if they would start an active campaign against spitting in public places.

Promiscuous coughing is also a public menace, especially in street cars and motor buses.

Why not dig up those dusty, anti-spitting laws and put them in force?

Seaplane tender has accommodations for six "blimp" type balloons.

It will go to the spot as nothing else will—and there's no "come back" except the "come back for more."

WANT MAYOR TO APOLOGIZE

Local American Legion Post Demands Written Apology
From Mayor

Chief Executive Bitterly Attacked by Legionnaires at Last Night's Meeting

Lowell Post, American Legion, demands a written apology from Mayor George H. Brown to its commander, Stephen C. Garrity, for alleged insulting remarks made to Garrity by the mayor in the presence of newspapermen and others, during a recent conference in the mayor's office at which time Mr. Garrity was representing his organization. Failure to receive such an apology, it was stated at a meeting held in Memorial hall last night, will mean open warfare between the legion and the mayor. It was further threatened that if the apology were not forthcoming, the legion would refuse to pass in review before the city's chief executive while parading on Memorial day.

The above is the outcome of one of the hottest meetings the local post has ever held. The meeting was held last night by members who came out despite the down-pour of rain.

Mayor Attacked

The mayor was bitterly attacked by several members of the legion who took the floor and denounced, in the most scathing terms, the attitude of Mayor Brown as far as service men were concerned. It was said that the very men he promised to uphold during his campaign for mayor. Threats were made to bring about investigation by District Attorney Endicott, R. Saltonstall and Governor Cox of certain of Mayor Brown's alleged acts regarding city service positions.

The floor in the meeting followed a report by Commander Garrity of his visit to the mayor's office. The commander had no sooner made his report than James H. Hogan, one of the most aggressive of the legion, began to attack the mayor. Hogan, who was the mayor, took the floor and attempted to persuade the legion to drop its fight with the mayor regarding the appointment of Edward and Wilson to the police force. He stated that the legion had been taken the 13 firemen might have to resort to the courts to obtain their pay.

Hogan said that he had been called into a conference during the afternoon and that the situation had been explained to him by the mayor. Hogan remained his seat but once again en-terprised the legion to drop its fight with the mayor.

Commander Garrity was out of his chair like a flash and shouting questioning Hogan from all angles. He asked if Hogan was representing the 13 firemen. Hogan replied that he was in some respects. Commander Garrity had no sooner resumed his seat than a score or more members jumped from their seats to ask Hogan questions.

Not True Representative

Commander Garrity gained the floor and asked Hogan if it wasn't true that he (Hogan) was supposed to be on duty tonight. Hogan replied that he had been let off by special permission.
McCarthy then asked if there was present another member of the 13 firemen. Commander Garrity arose and said that he was one of them, and said that Commander Hogan had not been asked to represent the 13 as a whole.

Much discussion arose regarding a letter received from Commander Garrity from a public official. At this point a few personalities were indulged in, but someone arose from the floor and asked for a rising vote of confidence in Commander Garrity and his judgment. This was given and the incident was closed for the time being.

Past Commanders Powers and Paulner were presented with past commander Garrity. Several commendations were made. Several commendations were made. Several commendations were made.

Then the tumult broke out afresh.
State Historian John J. Walsh took the floor and delivered a speech in which he bitterly rebuked the mayor for his recent actions. He said that the legion would fight Mayor Brown to the finish. At the conclusion of his remarks, he made a motion to the effect that the legion demand a written apology from Mayor Brown. The motion was seconded. A rising vote followed in which nearly every man in the hall stood up.

Investigate Affidavit

Here several of the comrades thought as have been thought should be made resolving a report that Mayor Brown had sworn an affidavit before a notary public, and affidavit now claimed to be in Civil Service Commissioner Dana's office in Boston, to the effect that there was no service men in Lowell qualifying for the position of superintendent of police and that reports made by the legion were untrue.

A majority favored the investigation.
In connection with this position it might be stated that Commander Garrity has received notice of a civil service examination containing the requirements for the position. Training and experience will count a great deal in the examination. A preliminary test will be given on March 23. An age limit between 25 and 50 years of age is set.

Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary also met, with President Mrs. Margaret Hewitt in the chair. It was voted to conduct a mem-orship drive during the coming month.
During the meeting the ladies served the legion members with a luncheon.

MOVING PICTURES OF SUGAR INDUSTRY

Moving pictures of sugar, from the fields to the consumer, have been shown at the consumer. The pictures were shown by the Lowell Grange and Hutchinson association. The pictures will be shown, free of charge, in the Colonial theatre tomorrow night. The association's committee has been put to considerable trouble in securing these reels showing sugar making, and hopes that a large number of people will avail themselves of the opportunity to see this interesting picture.

AUTOMOBILES STOLEN

Two Machines Disappeared Yesterday — Garage Entered — Car Recovered

Two automobiles were stolen last night, according to reports received by Captain Atkinson of the criminal investigating bureau. A garage at 152 Broadway was broken into and a two-passenger Buick car, owned by C.
M. Vidito, Chelmsford, stolen. Entrance to the garage was forced.

The original number plates of the car were 144,451, but the thieves removed the plates from another car in the same garage and are believed to have attached them to the stolen car.
The number on the transferred plates is 63,507. The car is said to have a maroon body and wheels.

Another Buick car, owned by a Mr.
Chapman, was reported to have been stolen from Market street some time yesterday afternoon. The registration number was 159,610.

The police are working on some clues which they believe will bring results in a short while. The Market street theft is considered a pretty dangerous bit of business and is thought to have been accomplished by means of release of the car against the business.

A Buick touring car, stolen in Lawrence Saturday night, was yesterday recovered by Captain Atkinson and Inspector Walsh. The machine was found abandoned in the woods near Varnum avenue. It is owned by Joseph Cromack, Lawrence.

The car was being held up by the police until the owner comes to claim it.

The police worked quickly on this case and had a clue on the machine a few hours after it had been reported stolen. The Lawrence police met and the alarm was given. A day after the stolen car was recovered and the property.

PREDICTS LOTS OF WORK FOR CARPENTERS

That within three or four weeks there will be plenty of work for the local carpenters, is the opinion of Almond A. Lee, business agent of the Lowell Carpenters' union. Mr. Lee stated to the Sun that at present about 25 or 30 carpenters of the 769 who live in this city are out of work, but he firmly believes that before long they will have more than enough to do.
Asked what he based his predictions on, Mr. Lee replied that he came to that conclusion a few days ago after conferring with men who are well posed in the building line. "We have very few foremen here," he said, "and this winter has been a hard one in every line of business, we did not feel the pinch as much as others, for there have been more or less repairs going on, while several new buildings have been erected in the city."

Mr. Lee expects negotiations between carpenters and the contractors will expire in May, and already negotiations are on for a renewal of the agreement and so far everything seems satisfactory to both the employers and employees. The carpenters do not seem to be unduly anxious to retain what they have and they are in hopes that the contractors will grant their request.

ENFORCEMENT OF BLUE SKY LAWS

At the recent convention of New England executive secretaries in Worcester there was some talk relative to the enforcement of the blue sky laws and the protection of investors from losing their money in fake stocks.
One of the speakers was a representative of the Massachusetts legislature, who was made that a short, intensive course of training in the public schools should be urged throughout New England, the course to include investment, banking, stock and bond selling and kindred subjects.
The speaker stated that the purpose of the public schools at the present time is to teach the children of the state and it is thought that the innovation would have a tendency to impress the students' minds with the comparative values of stocks and bonds, making them less gullible in future life and more difficult to mislead in the matter of the speculative stock salesman.
The students might even bring the teaching into their homes, giving the older people who are inexperienced in investment methods a little light on the subject and, consequently, a better knowledge of the stock-swindling game.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF LODGING HOUSES

In order to facilitate his work Supt.
Francis A. Connor of the public buildings department at city hall requests the owners or lessees of lodging-houses containing eight rooms or more above the street floor, to bring in their names for the annual inspection of the law which requires the inspection to make a thorough inspection of lodging-houses during the month of April.

Supt. Connor will soon start on his annual inspection, but he states there are many lodging-houses which are not listed at his office and hence the request. After his tour of inspection he will complete the report on the defects of the houses and the police and the owners or lessees of lodging-houses who are not complying with the law will be looked after. Of course a list of the local lodging-houses can be secured at the office of the license commissioner, but the superintendent feels that the owner or lessee of said houses should report to him at once, the nature of the building and its location.

VERY QUIET DAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Judge Thomas J. Enright appeared on the bench promptly at 10 o'clock this morning for the session of District Court. Four minutes later he left his post with the business of the session cleared up. But four cases appeared on the police court docket.
One was for drunkenness, one for non-appearance, one for larceny and the other a liquor case.

The drunk was released, the liquor case brought up and continued and the non-appearance case not ready for trial.

Cold water, according to high authority, is a valuable antidote.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW WALDORF LUNCH

The new Waldorf lunch on Merrimac street near the square was formally opened to the public this morning, with a number of members of the Waldorf System operating council present to inspect the new location.

The Merrimack street front of the new lunch room presents an attractive sight, with its handsome composition of Mueller the work, the new "Waldorf Lunch" beautifully set forth over the doorway, and the roomy plate glass window with its white enamelled inscription. The entrance to the lunch room is a small square on a somewhat smaller scale.

The interior fittings of the lunch room make a splendid appearance. Mahogany and woodwork combines with white tiling on the walls and figured tiling on the floor to give the place an atmosphere of refined cleanliness. The cashiers' desks at either end of the long room are examples of high grade and modern design. The mahogany arm chairs with enclosed sides along one side of the room and white topped tables on the other afford opportunity for either solitary diners or congenial parties to enjoy a meal in the manner best suited to the individual disposition.

The long service counter is manned by a corps of trained waitresses who are ready to handle all orders with despatch. Dressed in the neat, white uniform prescribed by Waldorf regulations, they seem in perfect harmony with their surroundings. All sorts of food are served on the high wall in the rear of the counter, with a space reserved for the day's specials. Practically anything in the line of eatables may be found in the list.

A spacious kitchen occupies a large room behind the counter space, and in this kitchen foods are prepared in a scientific and sanitary manner. A plunge of the kitchen showed that the cooks and their assistants all wore the uniform of white, and the latest means of preparing food, washing dishes and performing other kitchen tasks have been provided.

The tiled floor of the lunch room and adjoining kitchen are easily kept in perfect sanitary condition and the establishment is just what is claimed by the management, the last word in lunch rooms.

The manager of the new lunch room is H. B. Bruen, also city manager for the Waldorf System, Inc. The members of the operating council present today were: President Percy E. Wood,
Vice President Oscar F. Kennedy,
Vice President T. F. Allen, A. R.
Munro, manager of the Boston division; J. J. Kelly, manager of the Albany division; George D. Young, manager of the Springfield division; John McCarthy, manager of the Providence division; Arnold J. O'Grady, manager of the industrial division; Purchasing Agent James P. Johnson, Superintendent of Commissioners J. D. Barlow, and James A. Boyce, sales promotion and advertising manager.

LOWELL BAPTIST UNION

Rev. Dr. Arthur A. Brooks of Boston Principal Speaker at Last Night's Meeting

Rev. Dr. Arthur A. Brooks, pastor of the Dudley Street Baptist church of Boston, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Lowell Baptist Union, held last night in the Palmer street church. Rev. Daniel J.
Hatchfield presided at the meeting. A supper was served by the women of the church prior to the meeting. Dr.
Brooks spoke on the maxima of the New York subway: "Watch Your Step," "Love Forward," "Don't Creed" and "Last Stop, Everybody
Out." Following his remarks Dr.
Brooks sang, and was rewarded with hearty applause by those in attendance. Mrs. McKay also sang.

A set of resolutions expressing regret at the departure of Rev. George B. Marston of the Fifth Street Baptist church, who is leaving for Central Mass., U. I., to accept another pastorate, was adopted at the business meeting which followed the address.
The best wishes of the union for Mr.
Marston's future success and testimony of the high esteem in which he was held in this city were included in the resolutions. A financial report, showing a substantial balance in the treasury and a membership report were read and accepted.

At the next meeting, to be held in the Calvary Baptist church on April 17, Mrs. Helen Barrett Montanary, pastor of the Northern Baptist convention, will be the principal speaker.

NO CHANGE IN LOCAL STRIKE SITUATION

There is no change in the strike situation here. The Hamilton Mfg. Co. is still employing a few hands in a general cleaning up campaign throughout the mill, while the East State Cotton Corp. is still running as usual with all its handlooms and most of its weavers out on strike. Both mills are being peacefully picketed by committees from the strike headquarters. It was stated this morning, however, that the pickets have recently been varying increased gradually and that every effort will be made to close both mills tight within a short time.

It was learned at headquarters a few days ago that credentials were being issued at the headquarters of the Annunciation of Labor to authorize delegates of strikers to visit the various locals of the organization in centers that are not affected by strikes in an effort to solicit funds for the operatives who are out of work, but the said credentials have not yet been received in this city, although the Manchester, N. H., strikers are ready to be reviewed with them and some delegates from the Queen city are already on the road soliciting funds. John Hanley, who with General Organizer Thomas J.
Reagan is in charge of the local textile strike, stated today that as soon as the credentials are received, the delegates will be appointed and set out on the road at once. It is also the intention of the strike committee to request the mayor for permission for another lag day in this city in the near future for the relief of the strikers.

ANNUNCIATION GREEK ORTHODOX CHURCH

The place of worship for the members of the liberal democratic wing of the local Greek community, will hereafter be known as the Annunciation Greek Orthodox church, so it was learned this morning. Incorporation blanks will be given to the church by the directors or trustees of the church, and tomorrow they will be presented to the secretary of state by Thomas
